CLEMSON — A ROCK SOLID TRADITION IN ITS 100TH SEASON

Today's Features

5 Leomont Evans

If the ACC selected a Comeback Player of the Year, Tiger defensive back Leomont Evans would certainly be a finalist. Evans played in just five games in 1994 because of many bouts with migraine headaches. This year he has been nothing but a headache for opposing offensive coordinators.

7 Carlos Curry

Next Saturday will be a special day for Carlos Curry as the senior from Decatur, GA ties Rob Bodine's career record for starts by a Clemson middle guard. He has played in 42 straight games as a Tiger, quite an accomplishment in itself for a middle guard.

8A Centennial Scrapbook

This week we take you through the 1930s, an era that saw the establishment of IPTAY, its positive effect on the program, and the 1939 season, Clemson's first appearance in the AP Top 20 and its first bowl victory.

42 CFA Award Winner

This week the CFA honors student trainer Julie McGaha of Greer with the Hitachi Promise of Tomorrow teaching scholarship. She will receive one of the $5,000 scholarships awarded to students involved with CFA member football programs who intend to pursue a career in education.

44 All-time Clemson Team

As part of the Centennial Celebration, the Clemson Athletic Department is sponsoring an all-time Clemson team. Two teams will be selected, one composed of one-platoon players and the other of two-platoon players. Turn to page 44 for a list of candidates by position.

53 Tiger Tennis

Clemson's men's tennis team will have four new starters in 1996, but Tiger coach Chuck Kriese feels his team should return to the NCAA Tournament. The team that does not have a senior on its roster is paced by 1995 ACC Rookie of the Year Bruce Li.

54 Tiger Basketball

What will Rick Barnes and the Tigers do for an encore! With just five returning lettermen from last year's surprising NIT team, the Tigers are picked at the bottom of the ACC. Knowing the personable Rick Barnes, he has the ACC right where he wants them.

65 Lamarick Simpson

The city of Rock Hill, SC has been very good to Clemson football recently. Lamarick Simpson is another outstanding representative of that city's high school program who has been a reliable three-year starter with the Tigers.

68 Andre Humphrey

If you ran a poll of Tiger football fans as to who they feel is the most aggressive defensive back at Clemson in the decade of the 1990s, chances are Andre Humphrey would finish first. The native of Wilmington, NC ranks first in Clemson history in career kickoff return yards.

80 Tiger P.A.W.S.

Every successful football program has many support groups who are keys to the sport's overall success. Turn to page 80 for a look at the group who Promote Athletics With Students.

117 Chris McInally

Over the years Clemson's football team has benefitted from its soccer team. Chris McInally follows in the tradition that began with Obed Ariri in 1977. He and placekicker Jeff Sauve are the only current Tigers who have professional status in another sport.

120 The Last Word

The 1958 Clemson-North Carolina game was a landmark game in the history of Clemson football, the coaching career of Frank Howard, and the highway system in the upstate of South Carolina. Bob Bradley tells us why in today's Last Word.

Top Linebacker Schools Meet Today

Penn State has long been known as "Linebacker U". But, in recent years Clemson has received notoriety for producing linebackers. Three of the starting linebackers off of last year's Clemson team made NFL rosters this year and there are now eight former Clemson linebackers in the NFL, tying for the highest total in the nation with ACC rival North Carolina.

According to rosters released by the NFL at the beginning of the season, Clemson and North Carolina both have eight former linebackers on NFL rosters, while Southern Cal and Penn State both have seven. Nebraska, Ohio State and Notre Dame all have six linebackers in the NFL, while Alabama, Boston College, Colorado and Michigan State all have five.

Overall, Clemson has 21 players who have appeared on active NFL rosters this year, one of the top 20 figures in the nation. Notre Dame leads the nation with 42 former players in the NFL, while Miami (FL) is second with 37.

Clemson Homecoming Success

Clemson and North Carolina meet today for Clemson's Homecoming, the latest Clemson Homecoming since 1967 when the Tigers defeated Maryland 28-7 on a November 11 Homecoming. This will be the third straight Homecoming game for the Tigers. Clemson defeated Maryland, 17-0 at the Terps Homecoming two weeks ago and defeated Georgia Tech on the Yellow Jackets Homecoming last weekend, 24-3.

Based on Clemson's history, the Tigers should designate all games as Homecoming. The Tigers have an overall record of 51-17-3 on Clemson's Homecoming dating back to 1922 when Centre defeated Clemson 21-0. But, in recent years Clemson has been outstanding on its Homecoming, posting a 22-1-2 record since 1970. Clemson's only Homecoming loss over the last 25 years came against Georgia Tech in 1989, a 30-14 Yellow Jacket victory.

The Tigers have not faced North Carolina on Homecoming since 1964, a 29-0 Tar Heel victory. Two years previously, Clemson downed North Carolina on Homecoming by a 17-6 score. Overall, Clemson is 2-1 against North Carolina at Clemson's Homecoming.

Clemson vs. North Carolina Series

Clemson holds a 28-14-1 advantage in the series with North Carolina that dates back to 1897, the second year of football at Clemson. That 1897 game was just the sixth game in Clemson football history and the Tar Heels won the contest 28-0. It was the first game for the Tigers against a team that is currently in the ACC. Obviously the league was not formed until 1953.

Clemson has won eight of the last nine games in the series. North Carolina broke Clemson's seven-game winning streak in the series in 1993, 24-0 in Chapel Hill. Due to the conference schedule changes that allowed Florida State in the league, Clemson played at UNC three times between 1991-94.

Simmons will be a key to both defenses today.

North Carolina has not won at Clemson since 1980, a 24-19 victory on ABC TV. Lawrence Taylor provided the key play of that game for North Carolina, a sack of Clemson quarterback Homer Jordan late in the fourth period with Clemson inside the Tar Heel 10. Clemson has won six in a row over North Carolina in Death Valley by a combined score of 171-59 or an average of 28.5-10.

Clemson won last year's game in Chapel Hill 28-17. It was Clemson's top win of 1994 as the Tar Heels were ranked 12th in the nation in the USA Today poll entering the game. Nealon Greene was 9-12 passing for 104 yards and Lamont Pegues rushed for a pair of touchdowns.

Clemson won the last meeting between the two teams at Clemson by a 40-7 score. North Carolina entered the game ranked 18th in the nation with a 7-2 record, but the Tigers came away with a 40-7 victory, largest margin ever by a Clemson club against a ranked opponent. Patrick Sapp, now a starting Clemson linebacker, had his best passing day as a Tiger as he hit on 13-23 passes for 205 yards and two scores.

North Carolina Update

A quick look at many of North Carolina's statistical rankings would tell you that Mack Brown's Tar Heels are a 7-0 team ranked in the top 10 in the nation. The Tar Heels are 10th in the nation in scoring defense, allowing just 16 points per game. They rank second in the nation in total defense, allowing just 229 yards per game. They are 17th in the country in pass efficiency defense and are ninth in rushing defense. On offense, the Tar Heels are 21st in total offense averaging 430 yards per game, including 282 yards a game through the air, 14th in the nation.

The reason North Carolina is 4-3 instead of 7-0 is turnovers. North Carolina has lost 24 turnovers in seven games this year while forcing just 10. Any coach will tell you that turnover margin is one of the most, if not the most important stats.

Mike Thomas is the starting quarterback for the Tar Heels. The senior has connected on 125-224 passes for 1744 yards, but he has thrown 12 interceptions. He is on a school record pace in terms of completions, attempts, passing yardage and total offense. He recently had a record streak of seven straight 200-yard passing games broken in the win over Wake Forest when he had just 166 yards passing.

His leading receiver is Octavus Barnes, who has 35 catches for 680 yards. The team's top punt returner is among the leading candidates for the Biletnikoff Award, which is given to the nation's top receiver. Leon Johnson is the top rusher with 580 net yards and nine touchdowns, including a career high 167 yards against Wake Forest in North Carolina's most recent game. He also has 31 receptions for another 238 yards.

Marcus Jones is the most famous of the defenders. The senior defensive tackle has 52 tackles, nine quarterback pressures, three sacks and six tackles for loss. He is coming off his best game, a 12-tackle performance in a 31-7 win over Wake Forest, including three tackles for loss. Jones already has his jersey hanging in the College Football Hall of Fame. As part of a promotion for the new facility in South Bend, IN this year, the Hall of Fame requested jerseys of the top players in the nation and Jones's jersey was one of the selections. Jones has 20 career sacks entering the Clemson game and needs just two more to break the career record held by Lawrence Taylor and William Fuller. That is pretty good company.

Simmons Popular Linebacker Name Today

Fans at today's game will hear the name Simmons often during today's game.

Clemson's Anthony Simmons and North Carolina's Brian Simmons collectively have 165 tackles between them this season and are both among the top 10 in the ACC in tackles per game.

North Carolina's Simmons, a sophomore from New Bern, NC, had 12 tackles in the win over Wake Forest and is second in the league in tackles for loss this season with nine. He also has six passes broken up and four sacks.

Clemson's Anthony Simmons is an ACC Rookie of the Year candidate who ranks second to North Carolina sophomore Kivuusama Mays in tackles per game in the ACC stats. Clemson's Simmons has 94 total stops, 47 first hits and 47 assists and has six tackles for loss and two sacks. He has led Clemson in tackles in six of the eight games this year, including last week when he had 13 stops against Georgia Tech.

Simmons already has the Clemson record for tackles by a first-year freshman, but he needs just 11 more to break Ed McDaniel's (now with Minnesota Vikings) record for any Clemson freshman. McDaniel had 104 in 1988.

Four times this year he has been honored by the ACC. He was the ACC Rookie of the Week for his 14-tackle performance against Florida State, the ACC Defensive Lineman-of-the-Week for his 14-tackle performance at N.C. State, and Rookie of the Week for his eight tackles in Clemson's shutout of Maryland. He had another huge game against Georgia. The first-year freshman had 17 tackles, including 11 first hits, against the Bulldogs.

The 17 tackles against Georgia set a Clemson record for a first-year freshman and rank second in Clemson history for any Tiger freshman. Simmons and Randy Scott were the co-holders of the first-year freshman record. Simmons had 14 against Florida State and N.C. State, while Scott had 14 against Florida State in 1975. The record for tackles in a game by any freshman is 20 by Henry Walls at Boston College in 1983.

Smith Likes Playing in Atlanta

It was another big weekend for the Smith Family in Atlanta. Two years ago, Clemson running back Emory Smith was named the offensive MVP of the Tigers win over Kentucky in the Peach Bowl. A month later, brother Emmitt Smith was the MVP of the Super Bowl for the Dallas Cowboys in a victory over Buffalo in the Georgia Dome.

Last weekend, with Emmitt watching from the Clemson sidelines, Emory was Clemson's top rusher with 26-100 and a touchdown in Clemson's victory at Georgia Tech. The next day, Emmitt led the Cowboys to a win over Atlanta with 26-167 and a touchdown. Emory could not view Emmitt's performance because the Tigers practice on Sunday afternoons.

Emory is in the middle of an outstanding season for the Tigers. His touchdown at Tech was his 10th of the season, a total that ties for eighth best in Clemson history. And he still has at least three games remaining, hopefully a bowl game will follow. His 523 yards rushing is a career high and most by a Clemson fullback since Rudy Harris had 524 in 1991. Emory should pass that in his first carry. When Emory goes past the 557 mark he will have the most rushing yards by a Tiger fullback since Kevin Mack had a fullback record 862 yards in 1983. If Smith continues his average of 65 yards a game he will reach 715 this season, a figure that would be the third best ever by a Clemson fullback.

Four Tigers Near 500-Mark

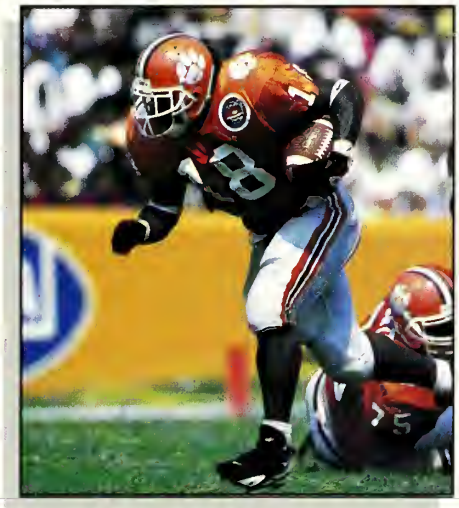
Clemson has had two 500-yard rushers and two 500-yard receivers on the same team just once in history. That took place in 1989 when Joe Henderson had 848 yards rushing, Terry Allen had 613 rushing yards, Rodney Fletcher had 556 receiving and Gary Cooper added 504 in receiving.

With three full games remaining, Raymond Priester has 843 yards rushing, Emory Smith has 523 rushing, Antwuan Wyatt has 511 receiving and Tony Horne 375 yards receiving. Obviously, when Horne gets 125 more receiving yards it will be just the second time Clemson has had four 500-yard players.

The existence of these 500-yard men is an example of Clemson's balance this year. The Tigers are averaging 391 yards a game in total offense, 238.1 in rushing and 153 a game through the air. Only six Clemson teams in history have averaged over 150 yards a game through the air. The record is 175.5 yards a game by the 1969 team, Coach Frank Howard's last club.

Clemson one of 16 Perfect Road Teams

Clemson has a 4-0 road record this year, one of 16 teams in the nation with a perfect road record. The Tigers are one of five teams with a perfect road record and four wins away from home. The others are Northwestern, Ohio State, Stanford and Virginia Tech. Clemson has just one road game left, at South Carolina on November 18.



The Smith family had another big weekend in Atlanta.

The Greatest Victory In Sports Is Not In Any Record Book.

Whether you win or lose, sports teach you to come back with a better effort the next time. And that's one of the greatest victories you can achieve.

Sports also teach you teamwork, dedication and determination — values you can apply to every aspect of your life.

NationsBank truly believes in this spirit of sportsmanship. We are proud to help this spirit grow through our support of sporting events at every level of competition. And we are proud to sponsor the Clemson Tigers.

After all, sportsmanship has the power to make winners of us all. And we know of no greater victory than that.

LEOMONT EVANS

by Brett Sowell

It's a good thing senior Leomont Evans likes challenges, because ever since the beginning of the 1994 season that is what he has faced. On August 26, 1994, 20 minutes into practice, Evans was on the ground, on his back, immobile. He could not talk, he could not see, he could only hear the concerned voices of coaches and teammates around him.

"When I went down I was out for like two minutes, but when I looked up, they said my eyes were open, but I couldn't see anybody," Evans recalled. "I could hear, but I couldn't speak or move my body. It was really scary."

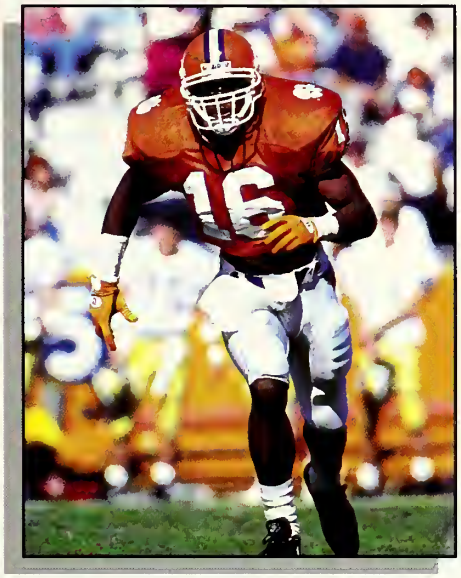
Evans, was rushed to the hospital, where trainer Danny Poole attempted to talk to him, but Evans tried in vain to respond. "I tried so hard, tears were running down my cheeks."

This day was only the beginning of a domino effect of uncertainties for Evans. Team doctors could not pinpoint the cause of his problems. He was now experiencing migraine headaches on a regular basis, his vision was cloudy, speech slurred and stuttering. His problems followed him into the classroom, where he often found himself sliding into daydreams. "I was really lost, I couldn't read or understand what was going on," he said.

Doctors performed various tests on him, but could not determine Evans' problem. After many tests, the doctors did rule out any of the most serious things and Evans was allowed to return to practice. He saw action in the season opening win over Furman, but missed the next two games versus N.C. State and Virginia. He saw action in four more games before being declared academically ineligible.

The slurred speech, trouble reading, and staying focused were too much to overcome and forced Evans to drop to nine hours in school. A student-athlete must be enrolled in at least 12 hours to be eligible for participation.

Evans had thoughts of giving up football and just focusing on school. "It was hard for me to get back in the game. I thought about giving it up, but I love this game too much. I told myself back then that if it happened again, I'd consider giving it up."



A healthy Evans has returned to his 1993 form when he was among Clemson's top tacklers.

With football out of his life for the time being, Evans began to focus on his classes and that paid off for him as he made a B in all three of his remaining classes. "I did well in my classes, but the hardest thing was losing contact with my friends on the team. Every time I went back home, people would ask me if I was going to play next year and some even thought my career was over."

It was at home, in Abbeville, SC, that Evans found the support he needed to begin his comeback. "My mom, my uncle, and my fiancée, they stuck behind me. Those were the people that I wanted to do well for. I wanted to do something to make them happy. I will never forget the people who helped me make it through that time."

Evans returned to the team in the Spring moving from his position as a defensive back to outside linebacker and he did well. When the team reconvened in August, Evans began to practice and once again he was experiencing headaches. But, this time his luck was changing.

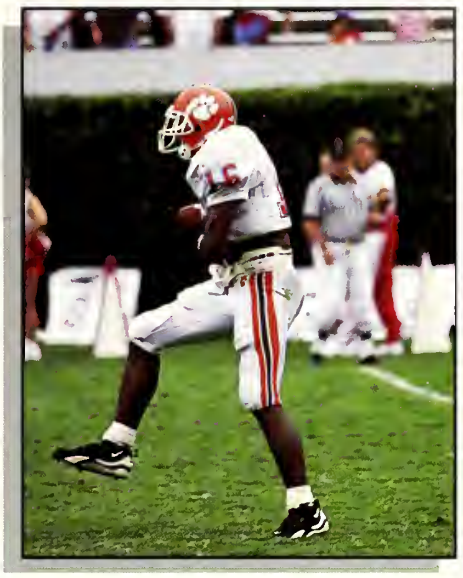
A tip from Dr. Lloyd Miller, a Florence physician, may have solved his problems. Miller advised Coach Tommy West to inquire about Evans chocolate eating habits. Turns out Evans daily diet included six Snickers bars, chocolate chip cookies, chocolate cake, and even some chocolate milk. Evans was advised to cut down his chocolate and sugar intake, and as he did his headaches pulled a gradual Houdini act.

"When I first quit eating chocolate it was real hard, but when you stop to think about it, it's not. If I eat it I won't be as productive as I could be. As long as I stay off it I feel I can continue to improve. I don't really use anything as a substitute for chocolate, I don't drink any carbonated drinks, instead I drink orange juice."

His mom, Dorothy Evans, described how different her son was without chocolate. "He's a much better person, his whole attitude and everything has changed this year. He's an entirely different person."

Migraine headaches, loss of sleep, and missed games, that was 1994. This is 1995: a move back to the defensive secondary, establishing himself as a vocal team leader, three interceptions versus N.C. State, three blocked kicks on the season, and the third leading tackler on the team.

In the season opener versus Western Carolina, Evans made five tackles, against Florida State he had seven, versus Wake Forest he had nine. Evans was making his own football renaissance. In the Virginia game he became the first player other than freshman Anthony Simmons to lead the team in tackles when he had eight. What Evans did after the Virginia game was just as important as what he did in it.



Evans tied a Clemson record with three interceptions at N.C. State.

The following day after practice Evans voiced his opinion of the rest of the season to his teammates in a closed team meeting. "I told the team that I wasn't going to give up on them, because we had seven games left in the season," Evans said, "I just felt it was something that had to be done."

In the next game, a win against N.C. State, he took his play to another level. In his 30 prior college games Evans only had one interception, this day he got three. His three interceptions tied a Clemson single game record. "I had to do something to back up what I had said." His 91 yards in interception return yardage in that game ranks him third in the Clemson record books.

The Tigers turned two of the interceptions into 10 of Clemson's 43 points. He also made 11 tackles, including two which saved touchdowns. His efforts earned him ACC Defensive Back-of-the-Week.

The next week against Georgia, Evans set and tied a record. His 18 tackles in the game established a precedent for tackles by a Tiger defensive back. He also blocked two kicks which gave him three on the season, which ties a single season record.

Even though Evans has now made his share of big plays, interceptions, blocked kicks, and big defensive stops, he won't label one as his favorite aspect of football. "I like the competition, in everyday life you will be challenged by something. Things you do on the field are getting you prepared for life. A person will be challenged in life and I like to be challenged."

With the challenges of the 1994 season behind him, Evans knows things are going to continue to be brighter for him. If he should face another challenge, Evans will no doubt hit it like he does opposing offenses, head on.

CARLOS CURRY

By Brian Hennessy

Over the past three and a half years, Clemson's defense has seen quite a bit of change. There have been a coaching change that led to the change of defensive coordinators, and three recruiting classes that have brought different players to the positions. But one constant that Tiger fans have had is the big man in the middle, the heart and soul of the Tiger "D": No. 93, Carlos Curry.

Curry, a 6-foot, 285-pound senior middle guard from Decatur, GA, says his main reason for donning the orange and white of Clemson was the tradition-rich history of the Tiger program. In other others the program's consistent level of excellence.

"I always wanted to be a part of a successful program like Clemson. At first, I thought I would be heading to Auburn. But when Clemson started recruiting me, I knew this was the place for me. I also credit Warren Forney. He talked to me about the adjustments that needed to be made in order to be a successful college athlete and has had a big impact on my career."

Before that college matriculation question had to be answered, Curry lived a life in a town outside of Atlanta with loving parents, two brothers, and one sister. One of his brothers', Michael, played basketball for a different orange... at Tennessee. Michael is 6-11, an amazing nine inches taller than his younger brother, Carlos.

His parents and family have been extremely supportive throughout Curry's college career. "My parents were there for me when I needed them the most and always seemed to have the answers to my problems. They also taught me the importance of prayer and having Jesus Christ in my life."

Curry also speaks highly of his high school coach and friend, Ron Sebree. "Coach Sebree was like a big brother to me. We could talk about anything dealing with life or football. He was there for me when things weren't going right. I credit him for my development on and off the field."

Sebree must have had a positive influence because, since arriving at Clemson in '92, Curry has had to be able to budget his time between athletics and academics. The marketing major states, "Every day is planned out from the time I get up in the morning to the time I go to bed at night. At first it was tough. I struggled during the first semester of my freshman year because it was difficult to adjust. In my second semester, I really started to get with it." Since then, Curry has been on the path to earning his degree in marketing.

Curry did not take a semester to "get with it," on the gridiron, as he immediately made a contribution as a first-year freshman. He played in every game and started five. In his very first game as a collegian against Ball State, Curry posted a sack, four tackles, and two quarterback pressures in only 29 plays. The game remains today etched in Curry's mind because he experienced his most memorable moment as a Tiger.

"Standing on top of the Hill with my hand on the rock and all of those screaming fans for the first time is something that I will never forget. The emotions that went along with that moment will live in my mind forever." As the rest of the season progressed, he along with Brentson Buckner, posed a fearsome combination to opposing linemen.

Curry followed up on his fabulous freshman campaign with a solid sophomore year, in fact his best season statistically. He nearly doubled his tackle mark from 1992 with 56 stops. Curry also stepped up his game when the team needed him the most as he muscled 28 tackles over the last four games, including seven tackles in the Peach Bowl. The Peach Bowl was certainly memorable because he returned to Atlanta, which is only a few miles away from Decatur, to play in his only Bowl game to date.

Curry's junior year turned out to be his best year in terms of big plays. He had at least one tackle for a loss in all but three games, and had nine for the season, best among defensive linemen. His best game came against the Florida State Seminoles, a game in which the entire defense performed admirably against the nation's best offense. Curry had six tackles, along with a sack of Danny Kanell.

In reflection, that Florida State game has become a landmark contest in Curry's Clemson career. "During my junior year, I had lost a little love for the game and I was going through the motions. The coaches saw this and benched me for parts of the Duke and Florida State games. The Florida State game is when I started to get motivated again, while I finally realized how bad I was hurting myself and my teammates."

He has been his consistent self in 1995, but the Maryland game in College Park certainly stands out. Curry had five tackles, including a career high two sacks and a caused fumble. He was a big reason the Tigers shut out the normally potent Terp offense for the third straight season.

Through the first four years of Curry's career, he has established himself as a constant on the defensive line. Among some of his accomplishments is his "Cal-like" streak of consecutive games played, which stands at 42 entering today's game. Not only that, he has been in for at least 10 plays in every game except one game and at least 20 plays except three games.

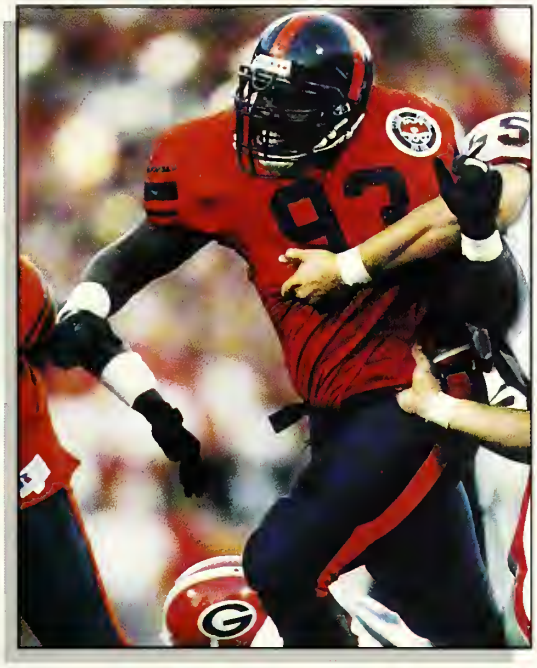
Next Saturday he will tie Rob Bodine's mark for career game's started at middle guard (35), and the record should certainly go by the boards at South Carolina on November 18. Curry also ranks first among interior defensive linemen in plays with over 1000 to his credit.

Although his actions are not easily recognized amongst the cast of offensive and defensive linemen, Curry remains entrenched in battles while he and his teammates try to win the war against two or three offensive linemen. His job is also important in less noticeable ways so that other linemen and linebackers can plug the holes and make the tackles with the surge that he creates. That's why Curry's wide base and relentless pursuit will be sorely missed in the middle of the Tiger defense next season.

As Curry stands in a crowd amongst his fellow classmates and teammates with his rugged and tough-guy looks, one might think of him as a brash and insensitive individual. But that is far from true. Curry's calm and low-key demeanor tell of a different side of this athlete who admits that he calls home just about every day.

"On the field I tend not to be very vocal. But I do try to lead by my actions, hoping to set a good example for my teammates. I also try to stress the importance of continuous hard work because there is always someone out there watching you and your every move."

As Carlos Curry's Clemson career comes to an end, he realizes the importance of hard work on and off the field. And it is this individual's consistent hard work and reliability, often unnoticed, that is an example of Clemson's long-standing success and tradition, a tradition that brought Curry to Clemson in the first place.



Curry's quickness sometimes forces the opposition to resort to illegal blocking tactics.

Shad Bryant

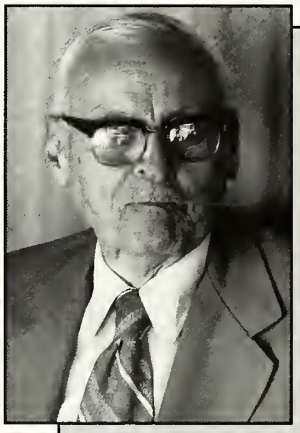
Few players in the 1930s put his chinstrap on tighter than Shad Bryant. He typified the rough and tumble Tiger of the late 1930s. Remarkably, he still holds the Clemson career record for punt return yards with 779. That is the oldest career record held by a Clemson player. He averaged 12 yards a return in his career, including an incredible 18-yards a return in 1939. He wasn't just a punt returner either, Bryant was a top defender in the secondary and also rushed for over a five-yard average. He was a first-team All-Southern Conference selection in 1939.

IPTAY Resurrects Tiger Football

Clemson struggled in the early 1930s and interest (note stands) waned. But, IPTAY organized the Tiger support group and rekindled that Clemson spirit leading to a resurrection of football fortunes that culminated in the success of the 1938-39 teams.

Rupert Fike

Fike is considered the founding father of IPTAY. The resident of Atlanta was the driving force behind the organization. By the end of 1935 he had signed up 185 members, and Clemson was off and running as the nation's leader in this now multi-million dollar field. Fike served as President of IPTAY for 20 years.



Captain Frank Jervey

Frank Jervey (for whom the Jervey Athletic Center is named) was a great friend to the Clemson Athletic Department for over 50 years. He was on the scene when IPTAY was founded. Mr. Clemson served Clemson from 1914, the year he graduated, to 1983, when he died at age 89. He distinguished himself as a soldier, engineer, and world renowned munitions expert.

Tiger Timeline

by Sam Blackman

October 17, 1930—Maxcey Welch scored five touchdowns (all rushing) in Clemson's 75-0 win over Newberry. Welch and Stumpy Banks are the co-holders of that Clemson touchdown scoring record. Emory Smith came close with four touchdowns at Wake Forest this year.

March 13, 1930—Josh Cody signed a new contract to stay at Clemson through the 1932 season.

November 26, 1930—Josh Cody announced that the Furman game the next day will be his final as head coach of the Tigers.

November 27, 1930—Clemson defeated Furman 12-7 at Furman to conclude the Tigers third straight eight-win season, the only eight-win seasons in Clemson history between 1896-1930. The 1930 Tigers concluded the season with an 8-2 record and posted four shutouts. In fact, only Tennessee and Florida scored over a touchdown against the Tigers in this season.

November 29, 1930—The Tiger student newspaper published an extra edition about Coach Cody, hoping to convince him to remain as head coach. Cody had become a popular mentor because of his overall record 29-11-1 record, including a perfect 4-0 record against South Carolina, the only coach in Clemson history to have a perfect ledger against the Gamecocks.

January 2, 1931—After reconsidering his decision for over a month, Cody made his resignation final.

January 17, 1931—Jess Neely was named head football coach at Clemson. He is the second consecutive Vanderbilt graduate to coach the Tigers. Cody had been a 1917 graduate of Vandy and Neely was a member of the class of 1923. In fact, eight of the last nine Clemson head football coaches were graduates of current SEC schools.

Mac Folger

Folger was a two-sport star for the Tigers in the mid-1930s. He led Clemson in scoring in 1935 with 36 points and had 522 yards rushing. He was named all-South Atlantic in 1936 when he scored 48 points. He set school records at the Southern Conference track meet that year. Two years ago he was inducted into the South Carolina Hall of Fame.

Don Willis

So you think Emory Smith is a big bruising blocking fullback. You should have seen Don Willis, Clemson's blocking back of the late 1930s. He was the recipient of the Jacobs Blocking Trophy for the state of South Carolina in 1937 and 1938, Clemson's first two-time recipient of the award. He was also a two-time All-South selection and became the first Clemson player to be drafted. He was the third-round pick of the New York Giants in 1938.

Net Berry

Joe "Net" Berry was way ahead of his time as a passer. In an era when 40 percent was outstanding in terms of completion percentage, he completed 58 percent in 1935. No Tiger matched that completion percentage figure until Mike Eppley in 1983. Berry was captain of Clemson's 1936 team and rushed for 457 yards in 99 attempts to lead the squad.

Tiger Timeline

October 16, 1931—Clemson suffered a surprising 6-0 loss against The Citadel in a game played in Florence. After the game, Neely, Captain Frank Jervey and others met in a car outside the stadium to discuss ways Clemson could help its football program get back on track. The meeting started the ball rolling towards the establishment of the IPTAY Foundation. Clemson would score just three touchdowns and win just one game during the 1931 season.

October 14, 1933—Clemson played at George Washington in a 0-0 tie. This was the first time Clemson had ever played under the lights. Fans followed the game on a grid graph in Tillman Hall at the Clemson chapel. A grid graph was an electrical machine that was marked off like a football field. Lights were so arranged on the graph that every possible play was flashed on the board. The lineups of both teams were written on the sides and the man carrying the ball on each play had a light flashed by his name. Another light representing the runner moved along the board in the same direction and for the same distance as the runner.

August 20, 1934—IPTAY, the nation's first scholarship fundraising orgainization, was founded. Dr. Rupert Fike, a cancer specialist from Atlanta and Clemson class of 1908, wrote Jess Neely a letter documenting the formation of the organization.

"Last night we had a little meeting out at my house and organized the IPTAY Club," Fike wrote. "The purpose (of IPTAY) shall be to provide financial support to the athletic department at Clemson and to assist in every other way possible to regain for Clemson the high athletic standing which rightfully belongs to her."

The organization was first established as a secret organization and initial membership dues were set at $10 a year. Many had suggested that $50 be the minimum donation, but Fike's forsight thought it would be best to get as many Clemson supporters involved as possible, so he established the $10 minimum.

Hall of Fame Staff

Three former Clemson coaches are in the College Football Hall of Fame and two of them were on the Clemson Coaching staff between 1931-39. Jess Neely was the head coach and Frank Howard was his top assistant. Joe Davis is also in the photo at left and was a key to the staff that set the foundation for the success Clemson has achieved over the last 60 years.

Gene Willimon

Gene Willimon had as much to do with two Clemson traditions as anyone. The Tiger tailback of the early 1930s served as executive Director of IPTAY between 1950-77, the longest tenure in Clemson history in that position. It was also his idea to put Howard's Rock on a pedestal at the top of the hill in Death Valley, one of the great traditions in college football.

Gus Goins

Goins was the first Clemson lineman to be drafted by the NFL, a 14th round choice by the Chicago Cardinals in 1938. He was one of the unsung heroes of the 1938 team that had a 7-1-1 record and finished second in the Southern Conference. He was All-Southern and All-South that season.

tion carried over into the 1934 season and the Tigers ran to their first winning season since 1930. Clemson had gone 0-5-1 against Furman and South Carolina in those years, then defeated both teams in 1934.

November 16, 1935—Interest in the Clemson vs. The Citadel game reached a new high at Clemson. In an announcement from the Commandant's Office, approximately 300 Clemson Cadets wanted to attend the game in Charleston. Seeking mean's of transportation, the Cadets offered to share traveling expenses with anyone owning an auto who wished to go to the game. The 300 Cadets got their rides and joined about 3,000 other fans in watching Streak Lawton score from 10 yards out and give Clemson a 6-0 victory. Clemson outgained Citadel 342-77, but still had just a six-point margin of victory.

November 19, 1935—Clemson held its first night football practice. Two powerful floodlights were installed at the practice fields. The Clemson coaches wanted more practice time with the players and that was the reason the lights were brought in. The extra practice did not pay off however, as Clemson lost its final game that year to Furman, 8-6.

November 17, 1937—Clemson defeated Florida in Gainesville by a 10-9 score. Don Willis scored Clemson's only TD of the game on a one-yard run that culminated a 65-yard drive on Clemson's opening possession. Later Clemson gave up a safety and a touchdown, so Florida led 9-7 heading into the fourth period. But, the Tigers drove 60 yards late in the game and Ben Pearson booted a 27-yard field goal to win the game.

At the time, it gave Clemson a 4-4 record in 1937, but it proved to be a program builder, much as Clemson's win over South Carolina in 1980 did. The Tigers posted to a 22-2-2 record over a 26-game period that started with that win at Florida. Clemson's only losses in that 26-game period were to Tennessee in 1938 and Tulane in 1939.

DR. DENO CURRIS

The Clemson family has a new leader.

President Constantine "Deno" Curris became the school's 13th president on May 22, 1995.

"More than any other university with which I have been familiar, there is a deep affection for this university and for its heritage," says Dr. Curris.

"That affection was an important quality that led me into the process when I was asked to be a candidate.

"I have become a believer in 'learning by osmosis,' gaining a sense of place by becoming a part.

"I am most eager to absorb the Clemson atmosphere by strolling the grounds, walking through offices, visiting classrooms."

One of Dr. Curris' hobbies is gardening, growing traditional vegetables, and he has spent his career helping universities grow and prosper as well.

Before arriving at the Clemson University campus, he was president of the University of Northern Iowa for 11 years. During his tenure, Northern Iowa was the only university in Iowa to experience enrollment growth. And, with one exception, the school's state appropriation also increased every year. The U.S. News and World Report cited UNI in 1993 as one of the best educational values among public universities. Its campus has also been ranked as the safest in the nation.

Curris assumed the Presidency of Northern Iowa in August, 1983. He became only the seventh chief executive in the school's history. At Northern Iowa, he led the school in raising admission standards and implementing a more rigorous comprehensive general education program. He expanded Northern Iowa's reputation as an institution for teacher education, gaining national recognition for programs in business, fine arts, humanities, natural sciences, and social and behavioral sciences.

He oversaw the development of international exchange programs and cutting-edge technological efforts such as centers for waste reduction, plastics technology, small business development, applied research in metal casting, and recycling and reuse technology transfer. Curris was also the driving force behind a $25 million private fund raising drive to build a performing arts center and fund endowed chairs and professorships.

Curris also directed the completion of extensive campus improvements and building renovations.

Dr. Curris' philosophy, supported by hard work, accounts for much of his success, the belief in constant improvement-gradual sometimes, but consistent.

"The real work of a university is building quality in incremental steps," he said. "Building the quality of the experience for students, both in education and career opportunities."

Prior to assuming the Northern Iowa presidency, Curris served 10 years as president of Murray State in Kentucky. The university's 130,000 square-foot student center is named the Curris Center in his honor.

Curris received a bachelor's degree, magna cum laude in political science from Kentucky in 1962; a master's degree in political science and public administration from Illinois in 1965, and his doctorate in higher education from Kentucky in 1967.

He currently serves as chairman-elect and director of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities and is involved in a number of other professional and civic organizations.

Curris was born November 13, 1940, in Lexington, KY. He is married to Jo Hern Curris, a tax attorney. They are the parents of a son, Robert Page, and a daughter, Elena.

"What has really struck us at Clemson, is the immense loyalty that we have sensed among the Clemson family. The affection and pride that people have for the University permeates every conversation."

Curris came to Clemson in May after a successful decade at Northern Iowa.

TOMMY WEST

Tommy West, was named head coach of the Clemson Tigers on November 29, 1993. Less than a month later he already had a bowl victory on his ledger, a 14-13 triumph in the Peach Bowl, Clemson's sixth bowl victory in the last eight years.

In his first full season, West guided the Tigers to a 5-6 record, and it was a season that showed week-by-week improvement. The '94 club, which featured the youngest Clemson offensive unit in 50 years, finished with a number-one ranking in turnover margin, a landmark ranking in Clemson football history. The Tigers were ranked as high as 21st in the USA Today poll, and finished the season with three wins in its last four outings, including a decisive conquest of #12 North Carolina in Chapel Hill.

West's defense ranked 14th in the nation against the run and 17th in scoring defense. The aggressive unit forced 29 turnovers and was one of the most reliable in the nation inside the redzone.

West also recruited one of the most impressive and productive freshman classes in Clemson history. Eighteen freshmen lettered in 1994, most for a Clemson rookie class since the 1940s. At times, the Tigers started seven freshmen on offense, including five first-year freshmen at the "skill positions." Last winter, he and his staff recruited a top 20 class according to most recruiting services.

West was a mainstay of a Clemson coaching staff that led the Tigers to a 69-20-4 record and six Associated Press Top 20 finishes between 1982-89.

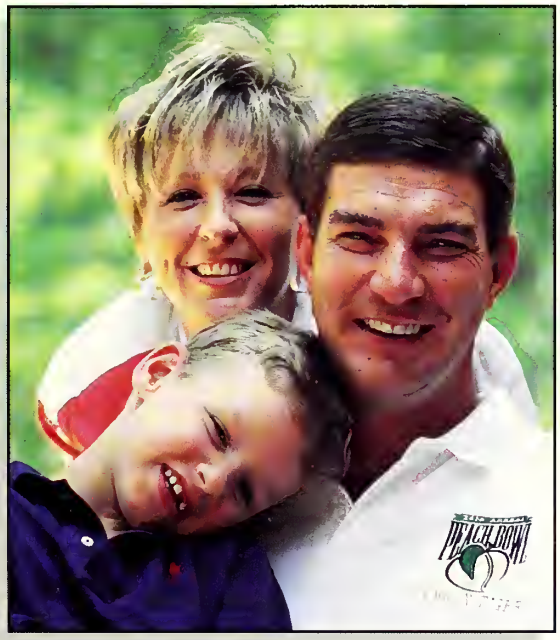
During West's first tour of duty with the Tigers as an outside linebacker coach, Clemson played in five bowl games (winning four) and claimed four ACC Championships, including three in a row from 1986-88.

Clemson had a 44-10-1 record against ACC competition during his era on the Tiger staff, an 81 percent winning mark. Additionally, five of those Clemson teams ranked in the top 15 in the nation in rushing defense and scoring defense, and three ranked in the top 12 in the nation in total defense.

Clemson's 1989 defense ranked fifth in the nation in total defense, rushing defense and scoring defense and West's outside linebackers had a lot to do with that success. His top four outside linebackers that year all played in the NFL in 1994.

Levon Kirkland (Pittsburgh Steelers), Wayne Simmons (Green Bay Packers) and John Johnson (Cincinnati Bengals) were starters in 1994 in the NFL, and Ashley Sheppard (Minnesota Vikings) was a top reserve. Simmons was a first-round draft pick, Kirkland and Johnson second-round selections and Sheppard was a fourth-round choice. In addition to the four players listed above, Andy Headen (New York Giants) and Terence Mack (St. Louis Cardinals) are former Tigers West helped guide to an NFL career.

West began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Tennessee (his alma mater) in 1977. He coached one year of high school football at White County High in Sparta, TN in 1978, then became an assistant at Mississippi in 1979. For the 1980 and 1981 seasons he served as an assistant coach at Appalachian State.



The West family: Tommy, wife Lindsay and son Turner.

After his career at Clemson (1982-89), West became the running backs coach at Tennessee. During that 1990 season Tennessee won the Southeastern Conference and captured the Sugar Bowl winning over Virginia. The Volunteers scored a school record 442 points that year and averaged over 410 yards a game in total offense, 205.7 rushing and 205.4 passing. He served as Co-Defensive Coordinator at South Carolina in 1991 and 1992.

In 1993 West took over a UT-Chattanooga team that had won just two games in 1992. He doubled that total in 1993 and guided the Mocs to one of the landmark wins in school history, a 33-31 win over #1 ranked Marshall. He concluded the regular season with a 45-42 victory over Furman. Ironically, his first regular season game as Clemson coach was a victory over Furman.

With his debut in the Peach Bowl, West became the sixth coach in NCAA history to make his debut with a program in a bowl game. However, he was just the second coach in history to make his debut in a bowl game without previously coaching his new team as an assistant coach earlier in the season.

West earned three letters in his four-year career at Tennessee (1972-75). The Vols played in three bowl games and were ranked in a final Top 20 in three seasons. He was the co-captain of Tennessee's 1975 football team and played in the Blue-Gray All-Star game that same year.

He began his college career as a running back, but saw most of his playing time as a tight end. He caught 37 passes for 575 yards in his career with the Vols, including 16 passes for 233 yards as a senior. As a junior he caught an 81-yd. pass from Condredge Holloway, still the longest non-scoring play in Tennessee history. He earned a bachelor's degree from Tennessee in 1976 and was drafted by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers that same year.

West played two years (1974-75) of baseball at Tennessee and had a career batting average of .305. He hit .367 in 1975 and was named All-SEC Eastern Division. Rick Honeycutt, now with the Oakland A's, was West's teammate on that 1975 Tennessee team that finished 32-16.

West was a multi-sport standout in high school. He was an outfielder in baseball, a guard in basketball and a running back in football. In 1972 he was named a High School All-American in football and was a fifth-round draft choice in baseball by the Chicago Cubs. Willie Randolph, who went on to an All-Star career with the New York Yankees, was one of 77 future Major League players drafted after West in the regular phase of the June 1972 draft. He played his prep football at Gainesville High in Gainesville, GA for Coach Bobby Gruhn. He was an all-state back as a junior and was also named to the All-Southern team.

Born Thomas Cleveland West on July 31, 1954, he is married to the former Lindsay Watkins of Forest City, NC. The couple has one son, Turner, 7.

ASSISTANT COACHES

Les Herrin

Les Herrin

Assistant Head Coach/Tackles and Tight Ends

The Clemson football program has seen a lot success during Les Herrin's tenure as an assistant coach. In 1981, Herrin arrived at Clemson as a linebacker coach, and the Tigers won the National Championship that season. In his first tour of duty with the Tigers (1981-84) Clemson had a 37-6-2 record.

After a brief stint away from Clemson at East Carolina (1985-87) and North Carolina (1988), Herrin returned to the Tiger program in 1989 as defensive line coach. In 1989 Clemson ranked fifth in the nation in scoring, rushing, and total defense. The team followed that performance with a number-one ranking in total defense in 1990, as well as second in scoring and rushing defense.

Herrin has coached several players who have had successful NFL careers. He coached 1981 ACC MVP Jeff Davis, who went on to be captain of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers and enters the Clemson Ring of Honor this year. He also tutored 1989 All-Pro Johnny Rembert (New England Patriots), who was a linebacker under Herrin's watchful eye in 1981 and 1982. Chester McGlockton, a Pro Bowl defensive lineman with the Los Angeles Raiders last year, and Pittsburgh Steelers 1994 rookie Brentson Buckner, also benefitted from Herrin's teaching.

The Les Herrin File

Personal: Born February 18, 1948...He and his wife Shirley have one son, Deke (19).

Miles Aldridge

Miles Aldridge

Co-Defensive Coordinator/ Outside Linebackers

Now in his second stint at Clemson, Miles Aldridge has been affiliated with five Clemson defenses that have ranked in the top 20 in the nation in scoring and rushing defense. He first came to Clemson in 1985 as an inside linebacker coach. From 1986 thru 1989 the Tigers were ranked in the top 20 in all defensive categories, including a number-five rating in 1989. His second tour of duty at Clemson began last year and the Tigers ranked 17th in the nation in scoring defense and 14th in rushing defense.

Clemson won three consecutive ACC titles during Aldridge's first stay at Clemson, 1986-87-88 and was ranked in the final AP top 20 in 1986-87-88-89. In his years at Clemson the Tigers have won five bowl games, including victories over Penn State and Oklahoma in consecutive Citrus Bowl games in the late 1980s.

Aldridge has coached several players who have gone on to have successful pro careers. Three linebackers have gone on to the NFL, Andre Townsend (Mississippi), Freddie Joe Dunn (Mississippi), and Ed McDaniel. McDaniel is currently a starter for the Minnesota Vikings.

The 1971 graduate of Gardner-Webb will coach the outside linebackers this year and serve as co-defensive coordinator.

The Miles Aldridge File

At Clemson: In his second full season involved in the coordination of the Clemson defense, his first as outside linebacker coach and his seventh full season as a Clemson assistant.
Previous Coaching Experience: High School - Chase High School (1971); defensive backs at Newberry High School (1972); College - Graduate assistant at East Tennessee State (1973); defensive line coach at East Tennessee State (1974-77); assistant coach at Wichita State (1978); assistant coach at Tulsa (1979); assistant coach at Mississippi (1980-82); assistant coach at Duke (1983-84); inside linebacker coach at Clemson (1985-89); outside linebacker coach at North Carolina State (1990); defensive coordinator and inside linebacker coach at South Carolina (1991-93); defensive coordinator at Clemson (Dec. 1993-94); co-defensive coordinator and outside linebacker coach at Clemson (1995).
Education: A.C. Flora High School in Columbia, SC; B.S. in Physical Education with a minor in Biology from Gardner-Webb (1971).
College Playing Experience: Lettered three years in football at Gardner Webb.
Personal Data: Born January 25, 1949...he and his wife Cathy have two daughters, Allison and Blakley.

Ellis Johnson

Ellis Johnson

Co-Defensive Coordinator/Defensive Line

Ellis Johnson is in his first season as a co-defensive coordinator, his first season as defensive line coach, but his second year on the Clemson staff. As outside linebacker coach last year he was a significant reason Clemson ranked in the top 20 in the nation in scoring defense and held three ACC teams, including Florida State, to their season low in terms of scoring.

Johnson is in just his second year at Clemson, but is no stranger to the area. He attended The Citadel, but he grew up a Clemson fan He has coached in the state at The Citadel as a graduate assistant, at Gaffney High as an assistant coach and at Spartanburg High as an assistant coach and head coach. His most successful stint in coaching so far took place in Alabama. In 1992 Johnson served an assistant coach at Alabama. The Crimson Tide experienced a perfect season and defeated Miami (FL) in the Sugar Bowl to win the National Championship. He is one of two Tiger assistant coaches on this year's staff with a National Championship ring. Les Herrin, a member of Clemson's 1981 staff, is the other.

Johnson was a part of four outstanding defenses at Alabama. During his tenure (1990-93), Alabama ranked in the top five in the nation in total defense and pass defense three times. The 1992 Alabama defense led the nation in total defense and rushing defense and ranked second nationally in passing defense and scoring defense.

The Ellis Johnson File

At Clemson: In his first season as co-coordinator and defensive line coach, his second season overall as a Clemson assistant.
Previous Coaching Experience: High School - Assistant coach at Gaffney High School (1976-78); assistant coach at Spartanburg High School (1979); head coach at Spartanburg High School (1980-81); College - Defensive end coach at The Citadel (1975); linebacker coach at The Citadel (1982); head coach at Gardner Webb (1983); defensive coordinator and inside linebacker coach at Appalachian State (1984); outside linebacker coach and recruiting coordinator at East Carolina (1985-87); defensive coordinator at Southern Mississippi (1988-89); outside linebacker coach at Alabama (1990-93); outside linebacker coach at Clemson (Dec. 1993-94); co-coordinator of Clemson defense and defensive line coach (1995).
Education: Earned a degree in Secondary Education from The Citadel (1975).
College Playing Experience: Three-year letterman at The Citadel.
Personal Data: Born December 23, 1951...married to the former Tonya Taylor in August 1994.

Clyde Christensen

Clyde Christensen

Co-Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks

An All-American quarterback in junior college, Clyde Christensen came to Clemson after two years at Maryland. He knows the ACC well as he also played for the University of North Carolina in 1977 and 1978.

At Maryland he coached quarterbacks John Kaleo and Scott Milanovich. Kaleo ranked second in the nation in total offense as a senior, while Milanovich ranked fourth nationally in that category in 1993. Last year the Clemson team ranked first in the nation in turnover margin and committed just 12 turnovers all season.

Christensen's offense at Maryland was explosive, as the Terps ranked fourth in the country in 1992 with an average of 466 yards per game, and 16th in 1993 when they averaged 440 yards per game. The Terps also ranked second in the country in passing offense in 1992 and third in passing offense in 1993.

The Clyde Christensen File

At Clemson: In his second season as co-offensive coordinator and quarterback coach.

Previous Coaching Experience: College - Graduate assistant at Mississippi (1979); offensive coordinator at East Tennessee State (1980-82); quarterback and wide receiver coach at Temple (1983-85); offensive and recruiting coordinator at East Carolina (1986-88); receivers and tight ends coach at Holy Cross (1990); running backs coach at South Carolina (1991); quarterback coach at Maryland (1992-93); co-offensive coordinator at Clemson (Dec. 1993-present).

Education: B.S. in Industrial Relations from the University of North Carolina (1979).

College Playing Experience: All-America quarterback for Fresno City Junior College; played for the University of North Carolina in 1977 and 1978.

Personal Data: Born January 28,1958 in Corvina, CA...he and his wife Debbie have three children, Ruth (4), Rebecca (9), and Rachel (11).

While Christensen is in just his second year as a coach at Clemson, he has known Clemson head coach Tommy West for over 15 years. The two were graduate assistant coaches together at Mississippi in 1979. He is only 37-years-old, but already has college experience at Mississippi, East Tennessee State, Temple, East Carolina, Holy Cross, South Carolina and Maryland.

Christensen was a part of two successful teams at North Carolina, as the Tar Heels played in the 1977 Liberty Bowl and the 1978 Peach Bowl during his career.

Rick Stockstill

Rick Stockstill

Co-Offensive Coordinator/Wide Receivers

Rick Stockstill has been around successful programs and record setting offenses his entire coaching career. In his first year as quarterback coach at Clemson (1989), the Tigers set a school record for completion percentage (60%). The Tigers led the Atlantic Coast Conference in total offense for the 1991 season, and Clemson gained the second most yards in school history in the process.

Stockstill also tutored productive offenses at Central Florida and Bethune-Cookman in his early years as a football coach. As a player, he was the starting quarterback for Florida State. He guided the Seminoles to a pair of Orange Bowl appearances, a pair of top 10 rankings, and was the team captain in 1981.

The Rick Stockstill File

At Clemson: In his second season as co-offensive coordinator and is in his seventh season with the Tigers.

Previous Coaching Experience: College - Offensive coordinator and quarterback coach at Bethune-Cookman College (1983-84); assistant head coach and wide receiver coach at the University of Central Florida (1985-88); quarterback coach at Clemson (1989-1993); passing game coordinator at Clemson (1992-93); co-offensive coordinator and wide receiver coach (Dec. 1993-present).

Education: Fernandina Beach High School in Fernandina Beach, FL (1977); B.S. degree in Physical Education from Florida State (1982).

College Playing Experience: Earned three letters in football from Florida State. Captain of 1981 Florida State team.

Personal Data: Born December 23, 1959...he and his wife Sarah were married on July 7, 1990, and had their first child, Brent Forrest, in August, 1994.

It is no surprise that Stockstill has moved up the coaching ladder so swiftly because he is the product of an athletic family. His father has been head coach at Fernandina Beach High School in Florida for many years. His brother, Jeff, was a starting wide receiver for the Tigers in 1982, a reserve on the National Championship team of 1981.

Stockstill is in his seventh year with the Clemson program and the Tigers have been to bowl games in four of the six previous seasons. He joins Les Herrin and Whitey Jordan as the only assistant coaches in Clemson history to serve under three different head coaches.

Richard Bisaccia

Richard Bisaccia

Running Backs/Special Teams/Recruiting Coordinator

Richard Bisaccia is a stickler for detail and one of the details he works on in practice with his players every day is holding on to the football. He taught this aspect better than any assistant coach in the country last year because the Tigers lost just two fumbles, fewest in the nation and an all-time Clemson record.

Bisaccia, a Yonkers, NY native, learned how to hold onto the football as a four-year starter and team captain at Yankton College. He was a free agent with the Philadelphia Stars of the USFL after his college career.

While the 1983 Spring season saw the end of his playing career, the 1983 fall was the beginning of his coaching career. He was named the offensive coordinator at Wayne State in Nebraska his first year out of college and he has been in college coaching ever since.

Unlike many Division I full-time assistant coaches, Bisaccia has not made a lot of moves. He spent five seasons at Wayne State, then six seasons at South Carolina. He has experience coaching on defense and offense, but will concentrate on the running backs position at Clemson.

The Richard Bisaccia File

At Clemson: In his second season as the Tigers' running backs coach and special teams coach.

Previous Coaching Expereince: College - Offensive coordinator at Wayne State (NE) (1983-87); graduate assistant for wide receivers at South Carolina (1988); volunteer assistant for defensive ends at South Carolina (1989-90); tight ends coach at South Carolina (1991); running backs and special teams coach at South Carolina (1992-93); running backs and special teams coach at Clemson (Dec. 1993-present).

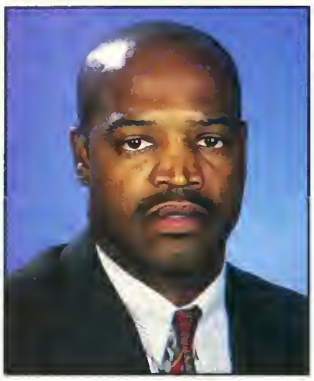
Education: New Fairfield High School in New Fairfield, CT; Earned a degree in health and physical education from Yankton College (1983).

College Playing Experience: Four-year starter and team captain at Yankton College (1980-83).

Personal Data: Born June 3, 1960...he and his wife Jeanne have four children: daughters, Michele (11), Elizabeth (6), and Madeline (2) and son Richard Oakley (1).

Bisaccia probably wears more hats than any other Clemson coach. In addition to his time with the running backs, he is also the special teams coach and the recruiting coordinator.

In addition to Bisaccia's changes on the gridiron the last year, he had a family addition. In August of 1994 his wife Jeanne gave birth to their first son, Richard Oakley, and fourth child.



Charlie Harbison

Charlie Harbison

Defensive Backs

First-year Clemson coach Charlie Harbison has more experience at the professional level than any other current Tiger mentor. Harbison was a starter at strong safety with the New Orleans and Boston Breakers of the USFL in 1983-84 and also signed a free agent contract with the Buffalo Bills in 1982, 1985 and 1986.

Harbison also coached on the pro level with the Raleigh-Durham Skyhawks of the World League of American Football, with the Charlotte Barons of the MLFS and with the Charlotte Rage of the Arena Football League. He has coached wide receivers, linebackers and defensive backs in his career, but has by far his most experience as a secondary coach.

He will be Clemson's defensive backs coach in 1995, his second consecutive year as a Division I secondary coach. In 1994 he coached the secondary at UTEP. This season he will have the opportunity to enhance the careers of a veteran secondary led by preseason All-American Brian Dawkins.

In addition to his Division I experience, Harbison also has had significant success at the NAIA level. His Gardner-Webb team of 1982 had a 12-2 record and played in the NAIA Championship game.

The Charlie Harbison File

At Clemson: In his first year as secondary coach.
Previous Coaching Experience: College—Defensive back coach at Gardner-Webb (1984); wide receiver coach at Gardner-Webb (1992-93); defensive back coach at UTEP (1994); defensive back coach at Clemson (1995); Professional—linebacker coach for Charlotte Barons (1990); defensive back/special teams coach for the Raleigh-Durham Skyhawks (1991); defensive back coach for Carolina Cougars (1992); defensive back/wide receiver coach for Charlotte Rage (1993-94).
Education: Received bachelors degree in business administration from Gardner-Webb College.
Playing Experience—Professional—Boston Breakers (1983), New Orleans Breakers (1984), Buffalo Bills (preseason 1982, 1985-86). College: 3-year letter winner at Gardner-Webb 1979-81.
Personal Data: Born October 27, 1959. He and his wife, Dana, have two sons, Charlie and Stedman.

Reggie Herring

Reggie Herring

Inside Linebackers

Reggie Herring is another example of an outstanding former player who has gone on to become an outstanding coach. A teammate of Rick Stockstill at Florida State, Herring left his own mark with the Seminole program as a player.

Herring was captain of the 1980 Orange Bowl team and earned AP All-America honors in 1980. The Seminoles played in the Orange Bowl and ranked in the top 10 in the nation his junior and senior seasons, and he was recently inducted into the Florida State Hall of Fame. He was a three-year starter at Florida State and the Seminoles played in three bowls during his four year career. Florida State also had three double-figure victory seasons during his career.

Like many of Clemson's assistant coaches in 1995, Herring has a diverse experience. He has been a part of successful programs at Oklahoma State, Auburn, TCU and now Clemson. He was defensive coordinator at TCU prior to coming to Clemson.

Herring has not made plans over the Christmas holidays for quite some time. He has been a part of college football as a player and coach since 1977. In those 18 seasons he has been to 13 bowl games, 10 as a coach and three as a player.

The Reggie Herring File

At Clemson: In his second season as inside linebackers coach.
Previous Coaching Experience: College - Linebacker coach at Oklahoma State (1981-85); linebacker coach at Auburn (1986-91); defensive coordinator and linebacker coach at Texas Christian (1992-93); inside linebacker coach at Clemson (Dec. 1993-present).
Education: B.S. in Criminology from Florida State (1981).
College Playing Experience: Three-year starter at linebacker for Florida State.
Personal Data: Born on July 3, 1959...married the former Lisa Ward, and they have two children, Caroline and Adam.

John Latina

John Latina

Centers and Guards

John Latina has been an offensive coach for a Division I program every year since 1979. He had quite a task last year in that he coached Clemson's entire offensive line. This year he will handle the centers and guards, a change that should allow him to spend more time with fewer players.

Latina showed his expertise as a teacher last year as Clemson's youngest offensive line in 20 years improved over the course of the season, leading to victories in three of the last four games.

The Virginia Tech graduate, who once played against Clemson as an offensive guard (1978), has worked at Virginia Tech, Pittsburgh, Temple and Kansas State. He has already coached in a bowl game with four different schools, Virginia Tech, Pittsburgh, Kansas State and Clemson.

During his career he has worked with Dan Marino, who led the Panthers to a 9-3 ledger and the Cotton Bowl in 1982. Paul Palmer, one of the top rushers in NCAA history with Temple, was also a member of Latina's offense in the 1980s.

Over the five years he was with the program, Kansas State's team in general and offense in particular, showed as much improvement as any in the country. In Latina's second season at Kansas State as offensive line coach and running game coordinator, the Wildcats set a school record for total offense with 4,231 yards. Kansas State advanced to a bowl game in 1992, just the second bowl appearance in school history.

The John Latina File

At Clemson: In his first season as guards and centers coach, his second season at Clemson.
Previous Coaching Experience: College - Assistant coach at Virginia Tech (1979-81); assistant coach at Pittsburgh (1982); offensive line coach at Temple (1983-88); running game coordinator at Kansas State (1989-93); offensive line coach at Clemson (Dec. 1993-present).
Education: Received a bachelor's degree from Virginia Tech (1979).
College Playing Experience: Four-year letter winner at Virginia Tech as an offensive guard (1975-78).
Personal Data: Born September 18, 1957...he and his wife Michele have two sons John Jr. (11) and Michael (8).

Clemson Sports Notes For 1994-95

*Clemson was one of just four schools in the nation to have its football, men's basketball and baseball teams rank in the top 25 of the USA Today polls at one time or another during the season. Clemson was ranked as high as 22nd in football, 18th in men's basketball and number-one in baseball. Five programs ended the year ranked in the top 20 in the nation.

*Five Clemson athletic teams were chosen for NCAA Tournaments, including three Spring Sports. The Baseball team was chosen for the ninth straight year, while the men's tennis team was chosen for the 14th time during Chuck Kriese's 20 years. The golf team advanced to the NCAA national tournament for the 14th consecutive year. The women's soccer and volleyball teams were also chosen for NCAA play.

Duane Ross won Clemson's only National Championship, winning the Outdoor NCAA 110 hurdles. Bob Pollock coached the men's outdoor and indoor track teams to Top 15 finishes.

Academic Achievements

*Clemson had two first-team Academic All-Americans, one in baseball and one in football. Ed Glenn was a first-team CFA All-America football player. He graduated with a 3.9 GPA in Biology and will attend Vanderbilt Med School. Junior third baseman Paul Galloway became Clemson's first first-team Academic All-American in baseball in 1995. He was also first-team All-East Regional and All-ACC Tournament for his play on the field. He has had six consecutive 4.0 semesters.

*Clemson athletes won three of the most prestigious awards granted by the Atlantic Coast Conference. Javelin thrower Jodie Phillips won the Marie James Award, which is given to a female athlete for outstanding achievement in academics and athletics. Glenn won the Weaver Award for outstanding achievement in academics and athletics, and also won the Jim Tatum Award as the top student-athlete football player in the ACC.

*The women's tennis team posted a 3.64 team GPA in the Spring semester, the highest team GPA for a semester in Clemson history. Six of the eight members of the team made the dean's list, including four with a perfect 4.0.

*All Clemson student-athletes combined for a 2.55 GPA in the Spring semester, the highest one-semester GPA in eight years. A record 20 student-athletes were on the President's List (4.0 GPA), and a record 53 were on the Dean's List for the Spring semester of 1994-95.

Coaching Accomplishments

*Women's soccer coach Tracey Leone was named Southeast Regional Coach of the Year. She led the Lady Tigers to a number-13 final ranking in the ISAA poll and 15th in the final Soccer America poll.

*Baseball Coach Jack Leggett was named ACC Coach of the Year for the second straight year. He became just the third coach in ACC history to win coach of the year honors in his first two years in the league. All three coaches who have done this are from Clemson. The others are current Clemson men's track coach Bob Pollock and former Clemson football coach Charlie Pell.

*Jolene Hoover was named ACC Volleyball Coach of the Year as she took the Lady Tigers to the NCAA Tournament for the second straight year.

*Chuck Kriese became the ACC's all-time winningest men's tennis coach with a 7-0 win over Virginia Tech on February 4. He now has 439 career victories in his 20 years as head coach.

*Larry Penley set a Clemson record for taking a team to 12 straight NCAA Tournaments and won his third straight NCAA Regional championship.

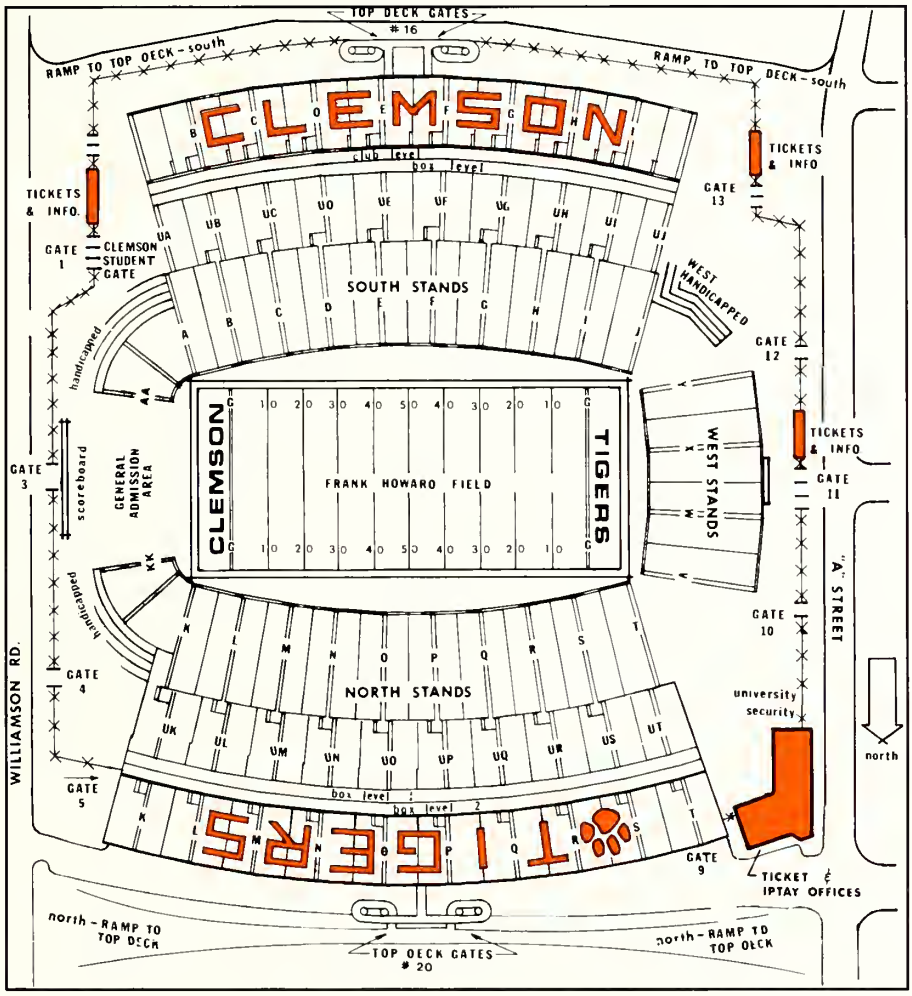
STADIUM INFORMATION



SEASON TICKET HOLDERS/OTHER VISITORS: Season ticket holders and other visitors to the stadium are requested to enter Gates 1, 5, 9, 11, or 13. Persons with top deck tickets must enter the stadium via the ramps which are located behind the North and South stands. Ramp entrances are adjacent to Gates 1 and 13 on the South side and Gates 5 and 9 on the North side.

HANDICAPPED: Special entrances have been provided at Gates 1, 5 and 13 for the handicapped.

WILL-CALL: Will-call tickets can be picked up at the ticket office at Gate 9.

PASS-OUT HAND STAMPS: Pass-out hand stamps will be available at Gate 1, 5, 7, 9, 11, 13 and the top decks. Any person leaving the stadium other than with a team pass must have his or her hands stamped, as well as admittance stub, to be readmitted to the stadium.

Gates 4, 6 and 8 are closed prior to the games and are opened for exit purposes only.

EMERGENCIES: First Aid stations are located at the following places: South side—Under Section J; North Side—Under Section T; North Top Deck—Under Section K; South Top Deck—Under Section E.

Trained nurses are on hand during each game. Should a doctor be needed, ask any usher, who knows the seat location of doctors. Ambulances are located at Gates 1, 5, 8, and 13.

TELEPHONE: Pay telephones are located at the stadium ticket offices at Gates 1, 5, 9, 13, top decks.

PUBLIC ADDRESS SYSTEM: The public address system is intended primarily for spectators' information concerning the game. Please do not request the use of the public address system to make social contacts.

RESTROOMS: Ladies' and men's restrooms are located between the stands and can be reached by exit from any portal.

LOST & FOUND: If any article is lost or found, please report it to the Gate 1 or Gate 10 information booths.

CONCESSION STANDS: Concession stands are located beneath all stands and can be reached from any portal.

EMERGENCY CALLS: Emergency calls are received in the Security Booth. The emergency number is (803) 656-2999.

PROHIBITED ITEMS: The following items are prohibited in Memorial Stadium: umbrellas, folding chairs, chaise lounges, food and beverage containers of any type, alcoholic beverages, thermos jugs, and ice chests.

NOTICE: Solicitation for any purpose is prohibited at an athletic contest in Clemson Memorial Stadium.

Hosts of this year's most exciting conference action.

For a winning conference, trade show, banquet or meeting, make the handoff to Palmetto Expo Center. We're set to tackle special events of any size or scope. Our starting lineup includes 420,000 square feet of meeting and exhibit space, an outdoor courtyard, and banquet seating and service for up to 2,500 people. To set your game plan in motion, we field special teams for catering, light and sound, and event staging. For conference action, Palmetto Expo Center is an odds-on favorite.

Textile Hall Corporation is the proud donor of the Textile Bowl Trophy, presented each year to the winner of the Clemson-North Carolina State game in honor of the textile graduates of these two fine universities.

Saluting 100 years of Tiger Football.

QUALITY TEACHERS FOR QUALITY EDUCATION

Hitachi and CFA Award Julie McGaha Teaching Scholarship

"A child miseducated is a child lost."

-- John F. Kennedy

The future of this great nation lies with the success of educating its youth. No one is more aware of that than Hitachi, Ltd. and the College Football Association.

For that reason, Hitachi and the CFA joined forces in 1992 to initiate the "Hitachi Promise of Tomorrow" program. Three years later, it remains the largest corporate-funded scholarship program in college football.

The program provides $5,000 scholarships to students at each of the 67 CFA member institutions who have excelled in academics and harbor a desire to pursue teaching as a profession. The scholarship funding can be used to defray the cost of the recipient's graduate studies or certification requirements in the field of education.

Julie McGaha was selected as Clemson's 1994 recipient of the "Hitachi Promise of Tomorrow" scholarship.

"The reason I want to pursue a career in education is the importance education has in our society," says McGaha. "It is only through education that we can improve ourselves as a people and as a nation."

McGaha, a native of Greer, served as a student trainer for the Tiger football team. While attending Clemson she was a member of the Student Athletic Advisory Board and was a member of the All-Academic Team for 1994.

The program was conceived in response to a forecast by the U.S. Department of Education showing a critical need for quality teachers in America at all grade levels.

By encouraging young men and women to pursue teaching as a career and in sharing their mutual goals of improving education, Hitachi and the CFA are confident they will help today's students to become tomorrow's quality educators.

"The need for role models who exhibit leadership, motivation and team spirit is greater than ever," Gale Sayers stresses.

The "Hitachi Promise of Tomorrow" program provides an opportunity for college football and the world's sixth largest corporation to work together in a partnership that cements a basic philosophy of each organization focusing on the importance of education. By granting scholarships to individuals who aspire to pursue a career in teaching, the program endeavors to upgrade both the quality and number of people entering the teaching profession.

Those eligible for scholarships are senior or graduate student football players, student coaches, student managers and student trainers. Applicants must intend to pursue a career in education.

"The most rewarding aspect of our three-year partnership with the CFA has been the positive impact this program has had in helping America's students," says Koichi Ueno, president of Hitachi America, Ltd. "Since it is education that empowers each of us, we are pleased to have formed such a powerful partnership with the CFA."

The national spokesman for the "Hitachi Promise of Tomorrow" program is Gale Sayers. Well known for his illustrious collegiate and professional football career, Sayers set an example by pursuing an advanced degree in education and later served as a college administrator. Today, a successful businessman, Sayers tours the country, speaking out on the importance of education.

"Even though football does not last forever, it does offer skills and leadership qualities that do," says Sayers. "The 'Hitachi Promise of Tomorrow' winners recognize that, unlike athletic careers, education is the only thing that can never be taken away from them."

For 145 players, 29 student trainers, 11 student managers, 14 student coaches, and two student academic assistants, receiving the "Hitachi Promise of Tomorrow" scholarship has helped to punctuate that theory.

"The CFA believes that football provides a training ground that will assist in the preparation for those seeking a career in education," says Chuck Neinas, executive director of the CFA. "Whether it be as a player or in a support role, football is hard work, and it teaches leadership, discipline and team spirit -- all attributes that can be transferred to the classroom."

These are the qualities shared by each of this year's 67 award winners, qualities that will help shape our country into the 21st century.

ALL-TIME TEAM CANDIDATES

As part of the Centennial of Clemson football an all-time Clemson team will be chosen. Two teams will be named, a one-platoon team (players who went both ways) and a two-platoon team. The one platoon players capture the 1896-1949 and 1953-64 era, while the two-platoon era captures 1950-52 and 1965-present. Having two teams should ensure a representation covering the entire history of Clemson football.

This page is not a ballot, it is merely a list of players to consider when ballots are available (in January at Bilo stores, in the Orange & White and at the Clemson-UNC game on Nov. 4). The players listed below were All-Southern, All-ACC, or All-American. Players who were multiple year second-team All-ACC are also listed. After their name is their highest honor, then the year they received the honor. You will be able to vote for anyone you want by using a write-in location on the ballot.

The two teams will be announced at the 1996 Spring Game and a Centennial poster featuring the 35 players will be sold during the 1996 season.

MEMORIAL STADIUM

The legend of Death Valley continues in 1995 as 16 football games will be played on its surface. Clemson will play its normal six regular season contests, while the Carolina Panthers will play in the facility 10 times, two preseason contests and eight regular season games.

What does the NFL's presence mean in 1995? If the stadium is good enough for the Carolina Panthers, it must be quite a facility. In fact, minimal changes have been made to make it ready for the Panthers and the National Football League.

This outstanding stadium that has kept pace with the changing world of college football has seen the Tigers run up a 53-year record of 184-67-7, including a 26-5-1 ledger over the last five seasons. Clemson had a 16-game unbeaten streak at home between 1990-92 and has a career winning ratio of 73.0 percent.

The stadium has definitely been good to the Tigers who call it home, but the stadium was constructed against the advice of at least one Clemson coach. Just before head coach Jess Neely left for Rice University after the 1939 season, he gave Clemson a message. "Don't ever let them talk you into building a big stadium," he said. "Put about 10,000 seats behind the Y.M.C.A. That's all you'll ever need'.

Instead of following Coach Neely's advice, however, Clemson officials decided to build the new stadium in a valley on the western part of campus. The place would take some clearing-there were many trees, but luckily there were no hedges.

The crews went to work: clearing, cutting, pouring, and forming. Finally, on September 19, 1942, Clemson Memorial Stadium opened with the Tiger Football team thrashing Presbyterian College, 32-13. Those 20,000 seats installed for Opening Day would soon grow; and grow and grow.

When the original part of the stadium was built in the early 40's, much of the work was done by scholarship athletes, including many football players. The first staking out of the stadium was done by two members of the football team, A.N. Cameron and Hugh Webb. Webb returned to Clemson years later to be an architecture professor, and Cameron went on to become a civil engineer in Louisiana.

The building of the stadium did not proceed without a few problems. One day during the clearing of the land, one young football player proudly announced that he was not allergic to poison oak. He then commenced to attack the poison oak with a swing blade, throwing the plants to and fro. The next day, however, the boy was swollen twice his size and had to be put in the hospital.

There are many other stories about the stadium including one stating that Frank Howard put a chew of tobacco in each corner of the stadium as the concrete poured.

Howard says that the seeding of the grass caused a few problems. "About 40 people and I laid sod on the field," he says. "After three weeks, on July 15, we had only gotten halfway through.

"I told them that it had taken us three weeks to get that far, and I would give them three more week's pay for however long it took. I also told them we would have 50 gallons of ice cream when we got through. After that it took them three days to do the rest of the field. Then we sat down in the middle of the field and ate up that whole 50 gallons."

Howard says that on the first day of the first game in the stadium, "the gates were hung at 1:00 pm and we played at 2:00 pm." But that would be all of the construction for a while. Then in 1958, 18,000 sideline seats were added and, in 1960, a total of 5,658 West end zone seats were added in response to increasing attendance. With the large end zone, "Green Grass" section, this expansion increased capacity to about 53,000.

Later, upper decks were added to each side of the stadium as crowds swelled-the first one in 1978 and the second in 1983. This increased capacity to over 81,473 which makes it one of the 10 largest on-campus stadiums in the country.

The effect spiraling inflation has had in this century can be dramatically seen in the differences in stadium construction. The original part of the stadium was built at a cost of $125,000 or at $6.25 a seat. The newest upper deck was finished in 1983 at a cost of $13.5 million, or $866 a seat.

Through the years, Memorial Stadium has become known as "Death Valley." It was tagged this by the late Presbyterian coach, Lonnie McMillan. After bringing his P.C. Teams to Clemson for years and getting whipped, McMillan said the place was like Death Valley. A few years later the name stuck.

Clemson has ranked in the Top 15 in the nation in attendance for 13 straight years.

VICKERY HALL

Clemson University's commitment to provide its student-athletes with the very best of facilities is evident in many ways. From the soaring upper decks of Memorial Stadium, to the state-of-the-art strength training facility, young men and women from all 18 of Clemson's varsity sports have the very best in facilities for training and competition. Vickery Hall is no exception, as the $3 million structure is as impressive aesthetically as any of the other facilities. But the importance of Vickery Hall to the Clemson University Athletic Department is not found in the structure itself, but in the many programs that the building houses.

Vickery Hall opened in the spring of 1991 and is the first facility in the nation originally constructed for the purposes of meeting the comprehensive needs of student-athletes. The two-story, 27,000-square-foot building is open throughout the day and into the evening to accommodate the extended schedules of student-athletes, and consolidates a variety of academic services for their use.

The Vickery Hall facility and staff ranks among the best in the nation and joined Boston College as the only two programs of its kind to become certified in 1995.

The philosophy behind Vickery Hall is to provide the Clemson student-athlete with a program that will meet his or her needs academically, in personal growth and development, and with career assistance. Vickery Hall is tangible evidence that, at Clemson, the athletic department has made a commitment to make the student-athlete's total experience a rewarding one, even after he or she enters the professional world.

"Vickery Hall is one of the most important facilities the Clemson University Athletic Department has ever built or will ever build. It makes a philosophical statement about the institutional commitment - giving our student-athletes the same opportunity to achieve their full potential academically that we give them athletically. We're very serious about that," said Athletic Director Bobby Robinson.

Vickery Hall is located in the mainstream of east campus, behind Jordan Hall at the top of Bryan Mall. The main entrance to the building is a 1,570-square foot reception/office area, comprised of five advisers' offices, two graduate student offices, and a conference room. Also located on the bottom floor is the office of Bill D'Andrea, the director of Clemson's student-athlete enrichment program.

Vickery Hall operates under the guidelines and policies of the university and the center's staff adheres strictly to the rules and ethical conduct standards of the university. In addition to the director, the staff also consists of six full-time advisers, two graduate assistants, and 50 tutors.

The building also boasts a 175-seat auditorium to be used for classes, team meetings, review sessions, and seminars. The various speakers and lecturers who come to work with Clemson student-athletes as part of the student-enrichment program also use this facility.

Another area of the main floor, the computer resources area, consists of a general computer tutoring room and a computer science tutoring room. The computer room contains 30 personal computers for hands-on computer tutoring, word processing and other general uses.

The 13,000-square-foot study and tutoring area on the second floor comprises the majority of the center. This area contains 28 tutorial rooms, including a large 65-seat study room and nine 20-seat study rooms, which are designed as classrooms with freestanding desks. There are 10 classrooms located on the first floor.

The facility has paid dividends. In the spring semester of 1995, Clemson student-athletes recorded a 2.55 GPA, highest on record. Eighty-three student-athletes made the ACC Academic Honor Roll in 1994-95, an all-time record. Records were also eclipsed in terms of dean's list athletes. It is also a reason a record four Tiger football players are graduate students in 1995.

The facilities at Vickery Hall helped Warren Forney earn his undergrad degree in 3 1/2 years.

Student-Athlete Career Assistance Program

The Student-Athlete Career Assistance Program is one of the most important programs provided by the staff of Vickery Hall. The philosophy of this program is to provide student-athletes with job searching skills and strategies, internships, practicum experience as well as summer employment. These programs are designed to address specific career opportunities through a program that uses each year to gain information on the student-athlete.

By using the resources available to the University, Alumni Center and the Athletic Department, former Tiger gridder James Earle is working to establish a network of businesses, companies, and executives who will help assist with The Summer Employment Assistance Program. The program's main goal is to provide the student-athlete with a job experience and a work history, which he or she can apply to his or her academic discipline.

The Long Term Career Assistance Program, also coordinated by Earle, will be coordinated from the academic colleges, the Placement Center, and through the Athletic Department contacts. This program is designed to better prepare the student-athlete for full-time employment and will focus on resume writing and interview techniques so that each student-athlete will be competitive and aggressive when dealing with companies who visit the Clemson campus.

Personal Growth Program

Another aspect of Clemson University's commitment to help student-athletes reach their potential in all areas of their life - academically, athletically, and socially, is the personal growth program. This program is one of the many purposes of Vickery Hall. This particular area of student development is designed to enhance and support the lives of student-athletes during their enrollment in college as well as in their life experiences after graduation.

Ginty Porter, the Development Coordinator, and Vickery Hall staff realize that student-athletes have more obligations than a regular college student. The personal growth program seeks to eliminate some of the stresses of adjustment to the higher level of academics and athletics. It is the groups special task to assist the student-athlete by creating a finely tuned balance of all areas to ensure success in obtaining a Clemson University degree, by supporting successful athletic practice and competition, enhancing personal growth, and helping with the transition to life after college.

Almost Perfect

Eastman Chemical Company has developed on-time delivery into an art. 98% of the time, we hit our marks right on cue. And with product quality so consistent, problems are the rare exception. Maybe that's why 70% of our customers rate us their #1 supplier.

But we're not happy with almost perfect. At Eastman, continuous improvement is one way we create value for our customers.

So we keep working at it. That attitude helped us become the first major chemical company to win the Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award. And we appreciated the ovations.

But until every customer receives every shipment on time every time, we will keep striving for the perfect performance.

Let your friends at Eastman demonstrate the art of service and quality. Call 800-EASTMAN.

MEN'S TENNIS

by Sam Blackman

Clemson has all the tools.

The tools to build another successful tennis season, according to Head Coach Chuck Kriese. Kriese, who became the winningest men's tennis coach in ACC history last season, is quick to point out, although the Tigers lost four starters from last season, the program should not skip a beat after signing a quality freshman class.

"We have the necessary ingredients to have an outstanding team this season—a better team than last year," said Kriese, whose Tigers were 21-12 overall and 6-2 in the tough Atlantic Coast Conference in 1995.

"First and foremost, we have leadership at the top of the lineup. Our older players have set a clear mission for this team with an excellent work ethic and a "get after it" type of attitude. Both of our two returning starters (Mitch Sprengelmeyer and Bruce Li) played satellite tournaments this past summer and have established themselves as players on their way to successful professional careers if they continue their steady improvement."

The Tigers participated in the 1995 NCAA Tournament, their 14th tournament appearance in the past 17 seasons. In the Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament, Clemson was the runner up team. The Tigers also finished 29th in the final ITA national rankings.

Richard Reyes, Ryan Fleming, David Nunziato and Clay Fouse are other veteran returnees who should provide excellent depth for the Tigers.

"These players are really setting the way by example with their hard work and excellent attitude. Besides leadership, a team needs hungry, young talent and I feel we had the best recruiting class we have had in a number of years.

"Ken Wasserman (North Miami Beach, FL) was ranked number-11 in the 16-and-under category nationally, while Luis Garcia (Peveregal, Mexico) was listed second in the junior ranks in Mexico. Pablo Bellagamba (Lyndhurst, NJ) was ranked second in the east as a junior, and Guma Aquiar (Pompano Beach, FL) is one of the best athletes in the state of Florida. All four of these players have a consistent work ethic and are outstanding athletes. They work and improve everyday in practice.

"The third and final element needed for a successful tennis team is great doubles teams. Li and Sprengelmeyer earned six ATP points and defeated the fifth-ranked collegiate team in the United States in Rob Chess and Peter Ayers of Duke this past summer.

"I feel we will be solid in doubles at number-one, and we are working to establish the two other doubles teams.

"There are no seniors on this team and we are building for the future. We finished second in the ACC last year and we feel we are heading in the right direction. Some of the goals we have set for this team include: finishing at the top of this league, finishing in the top 10 in the United States and challenging for the national championship in the NCAA Tournament— something that Clemson University deserves.

On paper, Clemson will be a young team with no seniors and just two juniors. But Kriese is quick to point out that he does not want to use this as an excuse.

"We have the potential to be better than last year's team. Although we have fewer experienced players, we will still have quality depth." Our young people have played tennis all of their lives. They may be young in their school years, but they are not young in tennis.

Bruce Li and Mitch Sprengelmeyer lead the returnees. Li is the Tigers top all-star candidate after being named ACC Rookie-of-the-Year last spring. He was the first Clemson Rookie of the Year in history. He finished the season with a 38-13 record overall in singles.

Sprengelmeyer also returns for his junior season. Last year he compiled a 24-16 record in singles and a 22-15 mark in doubles. He participated in the NCAA doubles tournament last season.

"Sprengelmeyer is a credit to our team with his perseverance, attitude, and work ethic. He is a quality tennis player. With strength and more experience, he will be one of the best ever at Clemson. I am very happy with the progress he has made and the foundation he has built. He has solid fundamentals and the sky is the limit.

"Li is originally from Beijing, China, and he has taken advantage of what America has to offer. He was the Atlantic Coast Conference Rookie-of-the-Year last spring, and played number-three singles. That is tough for a freshman—especially with our schedule. He was an ACC flight champion runner up in both singles and doubles competition. He showed great mental capacity to hold up under pressure and showed he is a true competitor."

Kriese has had a history of teams that were laden with true competitors. It is the main reason he broke the ACC record last year and is working on enhancing that mark to the point where it will be a record that will stand for many years.

Sprengelmeyer is Clemson's most experienced player, and hopes to lead Clemson back to the NCAA tournament.

TIGER BASKETBALL

By Tim Bourret

It was truly an eventful rookie season for the Rick Barnes era at Clemson. In his first month as head coach Barnes faced the loss of Sharone Wright to the NBA draft (#6 overall selection), and his leading returning scorer, Devin Gray, suffered a heart attack.

On top of that, Barnes spent some time in the hospital with a kidney stone problem. By the end of April, Clemson fans thought their new coach was actually former New York Knicks forward "Bad News" Barnes, or at least a relative.

But, Barnes instilled a perpetual work ethic in his five returning healthy players (who he appropriately named the "Slab Five") and soon all the news coming out of the Clemson basketball camp was good. The Tigers won their first 10 games, including the largest margin of victory in Clemson history at South Carolina, a victory over eventual NIT team and Big East upstart Miami (FL), and a shocking conquest of #9 Duke in Cameron Indoor Stadium, Clemson's first win in that facility in 10 years. On January 10, Clemson was ranked #18 in the AP poll, its first top 20 ranking in five years.

Clemson went on to a 15-13 record and participated in the NIT. The winning season and postseason bid were distant dreams when the season began. The squad finished sixth in the ACC regular season race, its highest league finish since it won the ACC regular season Championship in 1990. The Tigers ranked seventh in the nation in scoring defense and had the second fewest turnovers per game (11.57) in ACC history.

"Last season was as rewarding a season as I have had in coaching," said Barnes, who had been at Providence the previous six seasons. "We were picked to be the worst team in the history of the league in the preseason, not just the worst team in 1995. But, we had outstanding leaders with a terrific work ethic. When we got off to a good start the team gained confidence. It was a great group to be around."

Three of the "Slab Five", Bruce Martin (8.6 PPG, 44% 3-point shooter) , Andy Kelly (5.1 PPG, 83% free throw shooter) and Rayfield Ragland (8.5 PPG, 50 percent shooter), the players who formed the foundation of the 1994-95 team and the Rick Barnes era, have graduated. They were three of Clemson's top seven players in terms of statistics and playing time, but perhaps ranked higher in terms of leadership and team chemistry.

Barnes enters the 1995-96 season with just five players on his roster who have ever played in a college game and none who have ever played the power forward or center positions. So, despite the accomplishments of 1994-95, Clemson is again picked last in many of the preseason polls for this year.

"We are certainly a young team with no seniors on our roster and 11 of the 13 players freshmen and sophomores. But, the foundation was set last year and it is up to the returnees to carry it on.

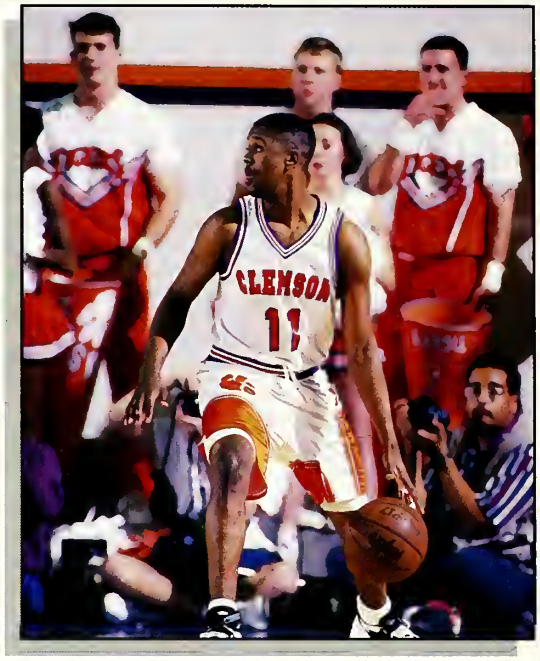
"We may change our style offensively, but we will always play tough defense by extending the floor and never giving up easy hoops. We might push the ball more offensively, have more firepower from the outside and look for the opening shot earlier in our offense, but we will continue to take care of the basketball and play unselfishly."

Part of the reason Clemson may change to a more uptempo style in 1995-96 is the recruitment of what many services say is the best freshman class in the ACC and one of the top 10 in the nation. Barnes signed seven high school players last year, including four who ranked among the top 100 players in the nation according to one or more services. The list includes four players at 6-8 or better.

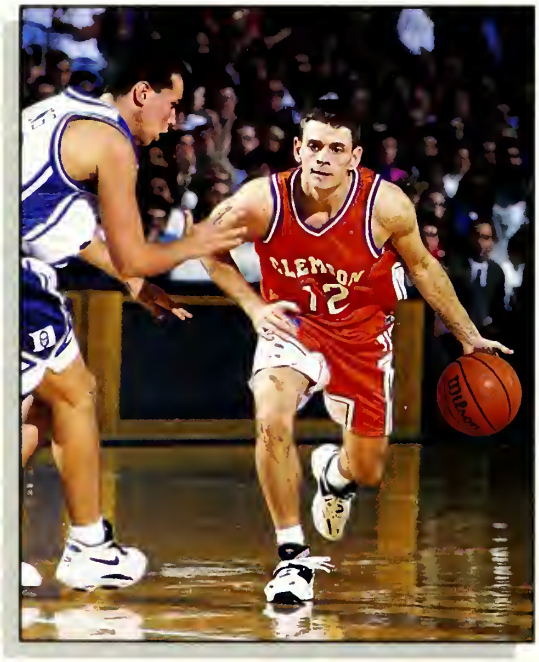
"We are happy with our seven freshmen signees. The class fits our needs. Obviously we needed some post players, so we signed four in the fall. We needed some smaller players who could run the floor and shoot the basketball, and we feel our April signees help us in this area.

"We are happy to sign a a class that is composed of all freshmen so we can build toward the future. This group gives us some depth, and most importantly, gives us competition in practice, something we lacked last year. You must have this constant competition to improve over the course of a season.

"I can't say for sure what our style will be offensively. I am not a coach who fits players to a style, I develop a style that fits our team. With the addition of some big men, we should be able to play a different brand of basketball this year."



Code is back to quarterback the offense and hit some three-point shots from a different area . . .



Harder showed great improvement during last season, culminating with a 20-point performance against Georgia Tech.

Backcourt

The backcourt is certainly the most experienced position on Rick Barnes' second Tiger team, as three of Clemson's five returning lettermen played the point or second guard slots last year.

Merl Code, a 6-2 junior from Greenville, SC, was the team's MVP last year as he ranked in the top three on the team in scoring (11.9), three-point goals (40), free throw percentage (.814), assists (111), steals (52) and rebounds (3.8). Code, one of Clemson's two returning starters, was one of just two ACC players in 1994-95 to accumulate at least 100 rebounds, 100 assists and 50 steals.

One example of his fine all-around talents took place at Duke when he had 13 points, nine assists and six rebounds in Clemson's win over the then #9 ranked team in the nation. Code, who is eighth in Clemson history in career free throw percentage, started all 28 games last year and led the team in playing time with 916 minutes.

"Merl Code improved in just about every area last year," said Barnes. "I am happy with his leadership from the backcourt and I like his versatility. He can penetrate, drive and hit the open man, he can create and you need that to compete in the ACC."

Code's runningmate in the backcourt

Barnes has Clemson fans, and prospects excited about the future of the Tiger program.

should be Bill Harder. Also a junior, Harder transfered to Clemson last year and was eligible five games into the season. The 6-0 player showed his impressive stats in the Southern Conference in 1992-93 (when he was the league's top rookie) were no fluke, by scoring 8.0 points per game. He also shot 40.4 percent from the three-point line and 46.4 percent overall to go with a 80.5 free throw percentage.

Harder likely will start at the point guard slot, but is capable of playing the two-guard. He did not start a game last year, but was third on the team in minutes per game. He finished the year with a flourish, especially in the regular season finale against Georgia Tech when he hit 8-9 shots and led Clemson to victory with a season high 20 points.

"Bill Harder is a much better athlete than I thought at first," said Barnes. "He worked very hard to improve his all-around game and certainly showed progress as the year continued. I am anxious to see what he can do after having a full year under his belt."

Danny Johnson is a third returnee in the backcourt. The 6-3 sophomore is an outstanding leaper who takes care of the basketball. Johnson had 27 rebounds in just 154 minutes of play, and scored 25 total points in his 27 games. The native of North Carolina led the team in most minutes per turnover. "Danny Johnson is capable of making things happen. He is aggressive on the boards and is a good passer."

Terrell McIntyre, a 5-8 player, is the only rookie pure guard on the Clemson team. The native of Raeford, NC was named the Southeastern 4-A Conference Player-of-the-Year last year as he led his team to the third round of the 4-A playoffs. He averaged 30.5 points per game, including a pair of 50-point games in his senior year. Sophomore walk-on Brian Chester will provide backup strength in his second season on the varsity squad.

Frontcourt

Clemson has two returnees and six newcomers among the frontcourt players. It is a versatile group as all eight of the players are capable of playing at least two positions.

The leader of the frontcourt is ACC Rookie of the Year Greg Buckner. The 6-4 player from Hopkinsville, KY led the Tigers in scoring (12.0), rebounding (5.9) and field goal percentage (.526) a year ago, just the fourth rookie in ACC history to lead his team in those three categories. Buckner also set a Clemson record for steals by a forward and by a freshman with 63.

Buckner, who is capable of playing three different positions, succeeded as a rookie regardless of the opposition. In three head to head meetings with Jerry Stackhouse he outscored (51-37) and outshot (46% to 43%) the North Carolina All-American. He also had superior stats to Florida State first-round draft choice Bob Sura.

"Greg Buckner suprised a lot of people last year and it was a lift to our program that he won ACC Rookie-of-the-Year honors. But, it will be tougher for him as a sophomore because everyone will be shooting for him. He has the capability of becoming a great defensive player and a great offensive rebounder."

The other returning frontcourt player is 6-7 Iker Iturbe. The native of Spain, who played his high school basketball in Minnesota, started 20 games at center last year after Devin Gray was ruled academically ineligible. Iturbe responded with a 6.5 scoring average, 3.8 rebounds per game and a 46.6 field goal mark, third best on the team.

He had a noteworthy performance against North Carolina in the ACC Tournament when he had a double-double against Rasheed Wallace. A crafty defender, Iturbe was named Clemson's Defensive Player-of-the-Year. Along the way to the award he set a Clemson single game record for steals by a center with six in a victory over N.C. State.

"Iker surprised us last year. He became more aggressive as the year went on and showed he was a consistent, dependable defender in the post. He caused problems for taller opponents in the middle last year." Unfortunately, Iturbe developed a blood clot in his right shoulder last week and will be lost for at least three months.

The remaining six Tigers are first-year freshmen. A couple of the players are capable of playing the second guard slot and have some gaudy three-point shooting percentages to back it up. Of the six new frontcourt players, four are listed as top 100 players by at least one service.

High school teammates Tony Christie and Andrius Jurkunas were both ranked in the final top 100 players in the nation according to Bob Gibbons All-Star Sports. The duo helped St. John's at Prospect Hall to the number-two ranking in the nation by USA Today.

Christie, a 6-7 forward, played in the McDonald's Capital Classic at Cole Fieldhouse and tallied 17 points and eight rebounds. The 16.3 scorer shot 70 percent from the field, 50 percent on three-point shots and 68 percent from the foul line. He was ranked 53rd in the nation in Gibbons final ranking.

Jurkunas, a native of Lithuania, was named MVP of the European Junior Championships in Tel-Aviv in the summer of 1994 and also played in the McDonald's Capital Classic last April. He connected on 49 percent of his three-point goals and averaged 16 points per game in 1994-95 after scoring 20.1 in 1993-94.

Tom Wideman is a 6-10, 250-pound center who was named a High School All-American by College Sports Magazine. The native of Marietta, GA was a three-time Cobb County Academic Player-of-the-Year and earned all-state scholar athlete recognition as a senior. On the court Wideman averaged 23.4 points and 12.6 rebounds per game his senior year and had a 17.5 average for his career.

Patrick Garner and Harold Jamison are two natives of South Carolina who should also contribute to the frontcourt area in 1995-96. Garner is a 6-9, 230-pounder who led his team in scoring in the Converse All-America game. He scored 15.4 points, shot 57 percent from the field and pulled in 9.6 rebounds per game last year at Wade Hampton High School.

Jamison averaged 18.4 points a game for his career at Holly Hill Roberts High School in Holly-Hill, SC. He also participated in the Converse All-America game and was named one of the top 40 frontcourt players in the nation by College Sports Magazine.

Ledarion Jones is a 6-6, 205-pound athlete from Bartow, FL who was named the 4-A Player of the Year in Florida last year. He led Bartow High to a 26-6 record with a 17.9 scoring average and a 7.5 rebound average. He also shot 39 percent on three-point goals, 74 percent from the foul line and 56 percent from the field.

He's Never Taken An Extra Point For Granted.

If the game is close, maybe you'll slide to the edge of your seat as the kicker sets up for the extra point. Maybe.

But perhaps you don't realize just how important every point is to someone like Matthew.

Matthew knows everything there is to know about child abuse. He's seen it and he's felt it. He is an expert at hiding in the closet, under the bed and beneath the house. But for the first time in his life, Matthew is learning what it's like to be loved.

For every point Clemson scores this season, First Union will donate $25 to Helping Hands of Clemson, a non-profit organization of professionals and volunteers dedicated to helping and caring for a lot of children just like Matthew.

So, this year when you're cheering for the Tigers, cheer a little louder for Matthew. Everyone at First Union will be.

If you'd like to do more than stand on the sidelines, please contact Helping Hands of Clemson at 1-803-654-6154.

LAMARICK SIMPSON

By Brenda Rabon

Be there for others.

This is the motto that soft-spoken Lamarick Simpson chooses to live his life by. The Clemson Tiger defensive end often places other people, especially those in need, ahead of himself.

In fact, Simpson hopes to use his degree in Sociology with a concentration in Criminal Justice to help others for the rest of his life.

"I have a good ear and enjoy listening to people when they need someone to talk to. I hope to take what I have learned as a student at Clemson and be some type of counselor for young kids or juvenile delinquents. I want to give something back to my community."

An ideal job for Simpson would be one in which he did not have to spend all his time behind a desk in an office. "It's difficult for me to say definitely what I want to do for the rest of my life, but I believe some type of counseling would be an ideal profession for me. I really don't have a preference of where I would like to work. It could be in an elementary or high school setting. I just want to be there for people who need to talk about any problems that bother them whether it be ones at home, with others, or anything else."

Simpson gave back something special to his community during his career at Rock Hill High School in Rock Hill, SC. As a participant in a Big Brother Program, Simpson was a supportive role model for a 12-year-old boy.

"He had my phone number so he could call me whenever he needed someone to talk to. I tried to be a role model for him. Since I am an only child, I never had a another brother or sister. I wanted to give something to another person and this young boy really needed someone. He was beginning to get into a lot of trouble at school, and everyone was worried about him."

Simpson would visit the student at his school and they would have lunch together. During these visits, the two would talk about anything the young student wished. "I just tried to be there for him whenever he needed me."

Positive results came from this experience. "I really believe this program is successful because I think we had some good results. This young boy changed aspects of his life. We talked about his behaviors and how he could improve. After the experience, I called the school and kept in contact with his progress. They told me that he was steadily improving his life."

This experience had a profound effect on Simpson's life. The positive outcome encourages him to continue to help others in need of counseling as a role model or just a friend. Simpson contends that often it is difficult to find someone to just listen and try to understand where you are coming from. It was a maturing experience, one that has helped Simpson deal with the challenges of everyday life.

The toughest challenge of college for Simpson has been juggling two demanding jobs—football and academics. "There are days when you just don't feel like playing football. Your mind and body are worn out. But, you have to put in your mind that you have to do it because you have a commitment to your teammates and Clemson University."

Simpson attributes strong leadership from other players as the support teammates need to keep matters in perspective. "There are a lot of guys on the team I look up to and admire. The graduate students (Louis Solomon, Warren Forney, Andye McCrorey and Marvin Cross) first come to mind. They already have their undergraduate degree. I am striving to get my degree, and they always offer encouragement. They remind me of the pride of accomplishment you feel with your degree."

Simpson feels another type of pride when it comes to football and the rivalry with South Carolina. Because Simpson grew up in nearby Rock Hill, SC, he looks forward every season to battling for bragging rights. "In my hometown of Rock Hill, you either pull for Clemson or South Carolina. I have even played with some of the players at South Carolina and it really adds to the rivalry for me."

Even when Simpson was making the crucial decision over which college to attend, the battle came down to these two schools. "When I came to a Clemson game, I fell in love with all the pageantry Clemson offered. All the fans were so enthusiastic. Orange and white decorated the stadium, it was just an exciting place to play college football. The football team was a sound, hard-nosed football team, and that's what I like. When I came for that visit, I knew Clemson was the place for me."

Simpson has not ever regretted the decision to attend Clemson. He believes being a student-athlete has matured him and prepared him for life. Many of life's lessons have been learned on the football field. For instance, Simpson attributes learning about the true meaning of teamwork to the success of the 1995 Clemson Tiger football team.

"The football team has pulled together even closer this year than last season. We are a closer family. There is no individual person—it's everybody. We don't worry about what people think. We just come in and do our job."

Concentration is the key to pregame preparations for Simpson. "Before a game, everything else but the game is completely out of my mind. I just concentrate on the game and try to play it in my mind and visualize what is going to happen. I have to be there for my teammates to do my job in hopes of helping the team get a victory."

Be there for others. That's the key to life for the Clemson Tiger defensive end Lamarick Simpson. This motto has not only enriched his life, but more importantly to Simpson, the lives of many others.

Simpson is well known for his play on the field, but he hopes to help juveniles as a counselor when his playing days are over.

Life is a road trip.

ANDRE HUMPHREY

By Brett Berg

Facing adversity. This may be the driving force in Andre Humphrey's life. Most people have to deal with adversity in their lives, but at 21, this Clemson defensive back has been given more than his fair share. Off the field, he has dealt with many distractions, but he has a history of using these adversities to come back strong.

Ever since Humphrey was diagnosed with asthma, he has followed the path of adversity. He spent many childhood days in and out of the hospital battling the problem. Then when he was 13, his father, Henry, was killed in a car accident. Just about the time when "Hump's" wounds began to heel, tragedy struck again. His older brother, Lawrence, was driving home from Fort Bragg, NC, just before Christmas, and was also killed in a car accident. Lawrence was on his way home to announce his engagement that day, his mother's birthday.

Humphrey is driven to push the tragedies aside. He is driven to become the best he can be. As a football, baseball, and wrestling athlete in high school, he excelled in whatever he put his mind to. No setback could slow him down. The night his closest older cousin died, Andre rushed for over 300 yards and seven touchdowns.

When the going gets tough, he thinks of his father and brother. "They are the ones who worked me the hardest," said Humphrey. "My father and brother are always with me. When I start feeling down, I just remember that they are watching over me. Then I just get into this zone, and say to myself that what I'm going to do, I'll do it for them."

Humphrey is Clemson's career kickoff return leader.

Coming out of high school Andre was no ordinary high school athlete. Humphrey did much more than compete, he dominated. On the football gridiron, he broke a Laney High School record with 1,600 yards rushing as a junior. Then, for an encore, he bettered that mark his senior year, rushing for over 1,700 yards and 25 touchdowns. He also led the team in interceptions with four, including one for a touchdown. He was named a SuperPrep All-American and the third-best player in North Carolina, by the same publication.

The baseball diamond was another field for Andre to excel on as a prep star. He was named to the North Carolina all-state team as a sophomore and a junior. He was also picked in the 12th-round of the Major League Baseball draft by the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Most athletes would stop here, but not Andre Humphrey. He also just happened to be the North Carolina state wrestling champion at the 170-pound weight his senior year. He also broke the state record for the quickest pin and broke his high school record for consecutive pins with 33.

Humphrey has brought those talents to Clemson. He has competed on the varsity level in wrestling, baseball, and football, the first Clemson athlete to compete in three sports since the 1940s. He had mild success in seven matches wrestling for the Tigers in 1992-93. He also was a contributor for the 1994 ACC Championship Clemson baseball team. He started in the outfield 21 times that year and garnered 11 hits. His most impressive day in a Tiger baseball uniform came against Maryland, when he hit 4 for 4, scored twice, and made some great defensive plays in the outfield.

Football is Andre's number-one sport, however. Ever since arriving at Clemson in 1992, he has contributed to the Tiger football team. Humphrey made an immediate impact his freshman year, coming in and seeing time in all 11 Clemson games that year. He shared time as a defensive back and also participated on special teams. He was second on the team in special teams tackles with 18.

As a sophomore with some experience behind him, you could say Humphrey was ready to do everything for the Tigers. Not only did he take over the starting cornerback position, he also returned punts and kickoffs, and he participated defensively on both punts and kickoffs. He started all 12 games for the 9-3 Tigers at cornerback and quickly made a name for himself. He was the fourth leading tackler on the team with 74 stops, was second on the team with eight passes broken up, and led the team in special teams tackles. He was named a second-team all-conference cornerback for his efforts.

Humphrey may have been a good cornerback, but he really shined returning kickoffs and punts. He was the first Tiger since 1938 to lead the team in kickoff return yards, punt return yards, and interception return yards in the same year. He led the team in all-purpose running with 842 yards, including a school record 663 kickoff return yards for a season. Perhaps his most memorable play came against South Carolina in the regular season finale in Columbia. He returned a punt 53 yards late in the game to set up Clemson's winning field goal.

Humphrey continued his torrid pace into his junior year, and again led the Tigers in kickoff return yardage. He also started in eight of the 11 games at cornerback and had 500 return yards on 22 attempts and for the second straight year finished in the top 35 in the nation in kickoff return average. He even ranks as one of the strongest players in Clemson history. His 1,160 pound leg sled figure is the best ever, regardless of position, in Clemson football history, an example of his drive to succeed in terms of conditioning.

Coming into his senior year, Humphrey was again ready to shine for the Tigers. But after playing in the first four games of this year, he again was hit by adversity. He was diagnosed as having a chemical imbalance and has been forced to miss the remainder of the season thus far. After a period of time in the hospital, he is fighting back as usual and currently is back on campus working on his academics.

Humphrey is Clemson's career leader in kickoff return yardage. He has 1,486 return yards, including 113 yards on six returns this season. His career also includes 160 tackles, 15 passes broken up, and 3 interceptions. Andre also played in 38 straight games for the Tigers, demonstrating his desire and dependability.

"Andre certainly has made a significant contribution to the Clemson program," says Coach Tommy West. "He is a guy we can count on to give his best everyday, whether it be at practice during the week or on gameday. He is a great person to have around your program because he works so hard. He is always focussed about what he needs to do to help Clemson win."

With all Andre's success in so many sports, it is easy to see his strength to overcome all obstacles. He keeps on fighting no matter what the odds are against him.

Andre's father once gave him the best piece of advice. "He used to tell me that until you overcome adversity, you can never be successful." If overcoming adversity is a measure of success, Andre Humphrey is a very successful man.

Traditions are something that don't happen overnight, they evolve over a number of years. One tradition at Clemson that is going strong and heading into its 61st year is IPTAY. The IPTAY Scholarship Foundation, is known throughout the country for its faithful and generous contributions by its supporters. A recent USA Today article called IPTAY the best-known organization of its kind in the nation. The article noted that at a time when college athletic costs are rising IPTAY continues to lead the way in supporting athletic scholarships at Clemson. IPTAY plays a major role in ensuring that all 18 of the varsity sports at Clemson are given the maximum amount of scholarships allowed by the NCAA.

IPTAY completed another record breaking year in 1994-95 when it went over the $6 million mark for the second straight year. The total number of members reached 19,000. The Tiger Cub Club was introduced in 1993, giving Clemson fans from birth to age 22 a chance to become involved in Tiger athletics. That club is now approaching the 2,000 mark in terms of members.

Thanks to this support, Clemson enjoyed another banner year in 1994-95. Nine Clemson teams, including five spring sports, advanced to NCAA play. Clemson was one of four schools in the nation to have its football, basketball, and baseball teams ranked in the top 25 of the USA Today poll at one time or another. Clemson had four ACC Rookie-of-the-Year selections and 22 All-Americans.

IPTAY is recognized as one of the oldest, largest and most successful athletic fundraising organizations in America. IPTAY was the first athletic fundraising organization in the country to top the two, three, four, and five-million dollar marks in annual donations.

In 1934, Dr. Rupert Fike founded IPTAY with a very simple purpose in mind: IPTAY provides funds for athletic scholarships. Since 1934 IPTAY has certainly met Fike's goal, providing scholarships for over 5,000 student-athletes, trainers, and managers.

IPTAY currently provides the funds for tutorial programs staffed by trained academic advisors, assisted by graduate and undergraduate students. This support is intended to ensure that all student-athletes are given the opportunity to earn their degree while participating in athletics.

IPTAY donors have also played an intricate role in the "Campaign for Clemson", a long range fund-raising project of the University. The University's original goal of 62 million dollars was surpassed with the next goal of 78 million also being surpassed in the campaign that ended on June 30, 1992. IPTAY provided three million dollars with ongoing opportunities for donors to be part of the Vickery Hall Academic Learning Center.

Vickery Hall, located on East Campus, is a 27,000 square foot facility that houses the tutoring and advising programs for student-athletes. The building contains various-sized study and tutoring rooms used for individual study as well as small group instruction.

This building is a major reason Clemson student-athletes had a record 2.55 GPA in the Spring Semester of 1995. Additionally, 83 student-athletes made the ACC Academic Honor Roll, the highest figure in Clemson history. A record number of students also made the Dean's List and the President's List.

The generous support of loyal donors to IPTAY has allowed the organization to go beyond the funding of athletic scholarships by providing the financial basis for many of the unparalled athletic facilities at Clemson.

Since 1978, IPTAY has provided the funding for $34 million of capital improvements in the area of athletics. These improvements include the expansion of the football stadium, the renovated baseball facility (Tiger Field), the outdoor track with new stadium facilities, the indoor tennis facility, the soccer stadium, the weight room, the new golf practice area, a new cross country course, the McFadden Building, and the IPTAY/Ticket office facility.

The facilities are among the best in the country, at least that must be the opinion of the NCAA. Over the last two years Clemson has played host to NCAA events in four different sports, including three in 1994-95.

IPTAY is also proud to provide the funding for Tiger Band. Each year IPTAY establishes financial support for travel, uniforms and equipment for this integral part of the Clemson athletic program.

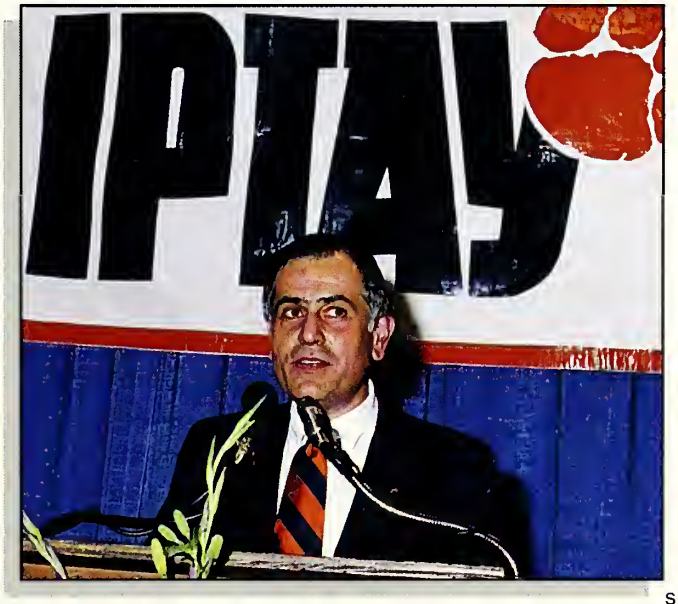
While IPTAY is primarily concerned with athletic fundraising, the mission of Clemson University has not been overlooked. The IPTAY Academic Scholarship Endowment was created to help meet the need for more academic scholarships for non-athletes who are highly qualified academically. This scholarship endowment is funded by certain company gifts that are made as a result of employee contributions to IPTAY. In addition, the athletic department has made generous contributions to the endowment from athletic revenues.

The IPTAY Academic Fund is presently the largest scholarship endowment of its kind at Clemson providing $2.3 million in funds, currently benefitting more than 60 students. IPTAY's support extends to all of the student body.

The tremendous support of IPTAY is due, in large part, to the organizational makeup that allows donors to be as close to IPTAY as they are to their local IPTAY leadership. Each of South Carolina's 46 counties has an IPTAY County chairman, and every county is alloted an IPTAY representative for every 35 donors.

One important way IPTAY keeps in touch with its membership is the annual Clemson Club meeting held in April and May of each year. These meetings, which feature different coaches and administrators are just one of the ways of making the local IPTAY members feel close to Clemson.

Clemson University will continue to be recognized and respected on the national level athletically and academically with the full support of IPTAY. IPTAY will continue to be successful because a loyal commitment to Clemson University is a way of life in the hearts of Clemson alumni and friends.



One of the factors in Dr. Deno Curris' decision to come to Clemson was the consistent love of the school expressed by Clemson graduates and IPTAY members.

Why some teams have a stronger bench than others.

The McFadden Building

McFadden Building

The Clemson Athletic Department continued its commitment to provide its student-athletes with the best facilities when it recently completed the Banks McFadden Building at the Jervey Athletic Center. The dedication of this 20,000-square-foot facility last April was the cornerstone of the Jervey Athletic Center renovation project that will be completed in 1996. It is designed to give all Clemson gridders the most modern and comfortable facilities in the nation.

The McFadden Building houses all the coaching offices and meeting rooms for Clemson's football team. The facility has meeting rooms for all nine position areas, so players are no longer forced to view film and discuss key strategy in a coach's cramped office. Each meeting room is equipped with "state of the art" video equipment.

There is also an auditorium that will hold as many as 180 people and is used for team meetings and press conferences. Additionally, there are private rooms for interviews with the media, a lounge, and even a pro scout facility that allows NFL representatives to view film of current Tigers in air-conditioned comfort.

McFadden Building Auditorium

The facility will also house a trophy and memorabilia area at its entrance. Much of the area will be devoted to Banks McFadden, the former Clemson All-American and coach who perhaps had as much an impact on Clemson athletic history as anyone.

The construction of the McFadden building is one of the final stages of the overall renovation of the Jervey Athletic Center. Last summer the Tiger football team came back to a new and expanded locker room with fresh paint, new carpeting, new lockers and more space. The training room was also expanded and a player lounge area, complete with video games and televisions, was constructed. By next year the weight room below the Jervey Athletic Center will be increased in size to an incredible 14,000 square feet from its already impressive 11,000 square feet.

"The completion of the McFadden building gives us outstanding facilities in every area," said Head Coach Tommy West. "We now have a stadium that is second to none as far as its appearance, tradition and ability to accommodate large crowds in a pleasant and unique setting. We have a new, modern and spacious locker room, team area and training facilities. And, the meeting and office areas are comfortable places to learn and work."

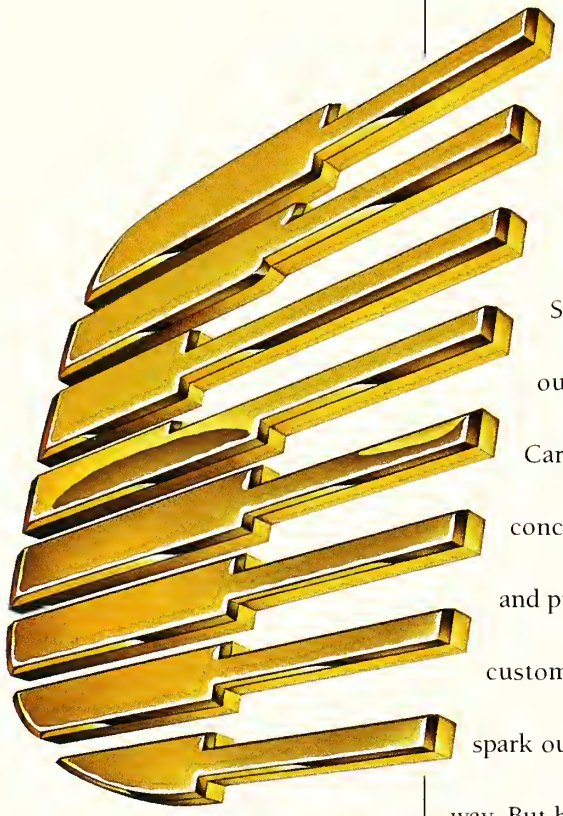
What we mean by putting South Carolina first.



We founded Carolina First because, well, because we felt we had to.• South Carolina's community banks were being bought up and run to serve absentee owners. • Being South Carolinians, we didn't care to do without a strong bank dedicated to our state's well-being. Being bankers, we created this bank. • If we understand South Carolina's needs, it's because they're the needs of our own friends and neighbors. We invest in South Carolina businesses because it's good business for all concerned. After all, when our home communities grow and prosper, we grow and prosper. And because we treat our customers as the individuals they are, their good feelings spark our own. • We'd treat any customer from anywhere this way. But by design – and in conscious contrast to the multi-state megabanks – our customers are South Carolinians. So are we. Is it any wonder we put South Carolina first?

*The ACC has had five bowl teams in each of the past two seasons and at least four bowl teams six years in a row.

*The ACC was the only conference to have five teams ranked in both the final AP and USA Today polls in 1994.

*The league had five teams with eight or more wins. Six teams, including Clemson, were ranked in the top 25 of both polls at one time or another in 1994.

*Five ACC Players, including Clemson's Ed Glenn, were named first-team Academic All-American, while five players were named first-team All-American.

*The ACC is the only conference to have all of its members play in at least one bowl game over the last six years.

*Nine times in the last 15 years an ACC member school has won the CFA Academic Achievement Award.

*Over the last 14 years the ACC and the Big Eight have captured more college football national championships than any other conference. Clemson won the title in 1981, Georgia Tech in 1990 and Florida State in 1993.

*The nine ACC schools that will take to the field this fall have produced 304 first or second-team gridiron All-Americans and 47 first-team Academic All-Americans. ACC teams have had 1,280 players selected in the annual NFL draft, including 81 first-round selections.

*Clemson and Florida State are two of just six teams nationally who have won at least 75 percent of their games in seven of the last nine years. Clemson and Florida State are two of just four teams to win at least six bowl games since 1986.

*For the fourth consecutive year the ACC drew more than 2.2 million fans. Over 51 home dates, ACC schools attracted 2,262,017 fans. ACC teams played to 88 percent of their stadium capacities. Clemson ranked 13th in the nation in average attendance, its 13th straight year in the top 15 in the nation in attendance.

*If success in postseason play is a barometer of excellence, the ACC is among the best leagues in the nation. The nine ACC teams have a combined 73-62-5 record in bowl games over the years, a .540 winning percentage. That is second only to the Pac-10's .550 success rate. Three ACC teams are among the top eight in NCAA history in terms of bowl winning percentage.

Winningest Conferences, Bowl Games

League	Record	Pct
Pacific-10	80-65-6	.550
Atlantic Coast	73-62-5	.540
Big 10	73-71-3	.507
Southeastern	128-126-13	.503
Big Eight	62-64-1	.492
Western Athletic	34-36-3	.486
Big East	42-48-1	.467
Southwest	59-73-6	.449

Winningest Schools, Bowl Games (Min. 15 Games played)

Team	Record	Pct
Georgia Tech	17-8	.680
Florida State	15-7-2	.667
Notre Dame	13-7	.650

Arizona State	9-5-1	.633
Clemson	12-7	.632

*Four ACC teams are guaranteed appearing in postseason bowls this year. Five ACC teams received bowl bids in 1993 and 1994. The ACC Champion will be part of the Bowl Alliance, the #2 team will go to the Gator Bowl, the #3 team to the Peach Bowl and the #4 team to the Carquest Bowl.

Clemson and Florida State are two of the most successful teams in college football history in bowl games.

*ACC Football teams made 26 appearances on National Television in 1994.

*The ACC won three national championships in 1994-95 and has now won 21 national championships in the last five years.

*Four schools ranked in the top 25 of the Sears Cup for all-around excellence in athletics.

*Eight ACC teams, including the Clemson baseball team, earned a number-one ranking during the course of the 1994-95 academic year.

*The ACC Academic Honor Roll record was broken for the ninth straight year as 1,171 student-athletes achieved at least a 3.0 for the year in the classroom.

EMERGENCY SERVICES

The Clemson University Athletic Department provides the following for your safety and emergency medical needs:

1. Advanced cardiac life-support stations in four locations (North stands, upper North deck, South stands, Upper South deck). These units are staffed with skill-care nurses, physicians, cardiologists, internists, paramedics, and EMTs.
2. Mobile units of EMTs and paramedics are strategically located throughout the entire stadium.
3. Ambulances with life-support equipment are available in North stand and South stand areas and have prearranged routes for evacuation to local hospitals.

Learn to recognize these personnel and facilities.

WHAT TO DO IF EMERGENCIES ARISE:

Please step back and give the organized EMS personnel room to work. Well-intentioned attempts to help by untrained persons interfere with the efficiency of the EMS system. If you have basic or advanced training in specific life-support methods, make your qualifications known and offer your help. Untrained personnel can frequently be more harmful than helpful.

Most emergencies occurring at the stadium result from pre-existing medical conditions. Bring your medical identification card or wear medical identification jewelry. Moderation is the key with dress, food, beverage intake, and physical exertion. The two most frequent medical problems at football games are allergic reactions to insect stings and heart attacks.

INSECT STINGS:

Common at outdoor events. Treat immediately with ice and seek medical advice. If allergic, carry a kit from your physician with you.

HOW TO RECOGNIZE A HEART ATTACK:

The symptoms of a heart attack vary, but the usual warning signs are:

1. Uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of your chest lasting for two minutes or more.
2. Pain spreading to the shoulders, neck, jaw, arms, or back.
3. Dizziness, fainting, sweating, nausea, and/or shortness of breath.

EXPECT A DENIAL

Frequently heart attack victims deny they are having a heart attack. The event is frightening or they don't want the embarrassment of a false alarm. Therefore, they delay getting help by ignoring their symptoms or rationalizing, "It's just indigestion."

Find out what's really wrong. Prompt response can dramatically increase chances of survival and recovery.

New therapies have been developed that can minimize heart damage and save lives if treatment begins within the first few hours of symptom onset. "Time is muscle." Get help or get to a hospital immediately.

Clemson 10, Florida 9

This would be a big win for Clemson today and it was in 1937. At left, Tiger coaches (Frank Howard at the right) and players (a smiling Banks McFadden at the far right) enjoy reading the Florida Times Union's account of the Tigers 11th-hour victory. The win was culminated by a 27-yard field goal by Ben Pearson (at bottom) in the fourth quarter, one of just three field goals all year by the Tigers. This win started a 22-2-2 run over a 26-game period for the Tigers.

Tiger Timeline

Tennessee ended the 1938 season with a 10-0 record and ranked second in the nation, while Tulane ended the 1939 season with an 8-0-1 mark and fifth in the country.

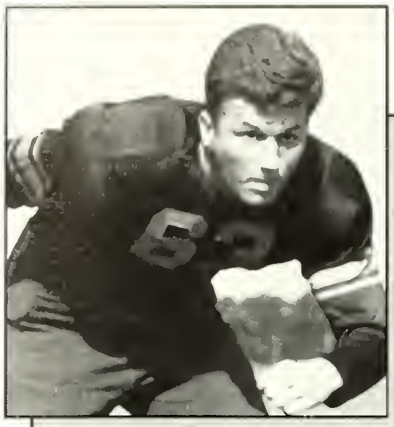
November 5, 1938—Clemson scored with big plays in a win over George Washington, 27-0. The Tigers scored three touchdowns on plays of at least 65 yards, the only time in history Clemson has had scoring plays of that distance in the same game. Banks McFadden ran 70 yards for a score on the first Clemson play from scrimmage. Later, Shad Bryant scored on a 65-yard punt return and on a 65-yard run off a lateral. Georgia Washington actually had more firstdowns, 15-13, yet lost by 27 points.

September 23, 1939—Banks McFadden ran 90 yards for a touchdown in Clemson's 18-0 win over Presbyterian. It is still the longest run in Clemson history. McFadden had a career high 173 yards in 15 attempts on this day.

September 30, 1939—Clemson suffered its only loss of the season to a revenge minded Tulane eleven. The Tigers had beaten the Green Wave the previous year by a 13-10 score. This season, however, Tulane defeated Clemson, 7-6. Despite the loss, it was a game that brought acclaim to Clemson for its ability to play so close with the team that would end the year ranked fifth in the nation. McFadden was all over the field on this day, throwing for Clemson's only touchdown and defending enemy passes from the secondary. His punting kept Tulane bottled up in its own territory. He had 12 punts for 504 yards, including a record six punts of at least 50 yards. Unfortunately he was involved in what proved to be the deciding play of the game as his extra point attempt after Clemson's only touchdown was blocked.

October 7, 1939—Charlie Timmons rushed for 86 yards and Bru Trexler scored two TDs to lead Clemson to a 25-6 win over N.C. State in a game played in Charlotte.

October 19, 1939—Clemson out-



Walter Cox

How many college athletes go on to become the president of their university? Walter Cox did and served with distinction in both areas. He was a starter at right guard on the 1939 Southern Conference championship team. He also served Clemson as Head baseball coach and as a line coach in the 1940s.

George Fritts

Fritts was the first three-time all-conference player in Clemson history. He was an all-conference choice as a lineman in 1939, joining Joe Blalock as the first sophomore all-conference player at Clemson. Fritts went on to play in the NFL with the Philadelphia Eagles in 1945, the first Tiger lineman to play pro football.

Charlie Timmons

While Banks McFadden received much of the notoriety as a triple threat back on the 1939 team, it was Charlie Timmons who was the top rusher for the season with 556 yards. The sophomore gained 115 yards in the defensive struggle against Boston College. He was a sophomore in 1939 and went on to score 77 points in 1941, the most points scored by a Tiger over the first 54 years of Clemson football.

Tiger Timeline

gained South Carolina 402-90 in a 27-0 thrashing of the Gamecocks. Banks McFadden threw for 85 yards and rushed for 76 in just 14 attempts.

October 26, 1939—Clemson showed it was a deep enough team to win without All-American Banks McFadden, who missed the Navy game with an injury. Shad Bryant had a 40-yard run for a score in Clemson's 15-7 win at Annapolis.

November 3, 1939—Clemson won in the Washington DC area for the second straight week, defeating George Washington on the road, 13-6. Bryant had 127 yards on the ground and scored Clemson's only touchdown. The game was played on a Friday evening.

November 11, 1939—McFadden completed just four passes against Wake Forest, but three were to Joe Blalock for 105 yards, the first 100-yard receiving game in Clemson history. It was the final home game for McFadden and the rest of the Tiger seniors.

November 13, 1939—Clemson was ranked in the Associated Press poll for the first time. The Tigers soundly defeated Wake Forest 20-7 to run its record to 6-1 and that led to the ranking. Clemson had 33 poll points on that November 13 ranking and one first-place vote out of the 85 votes in the poll that week. Clemson remained ranked in the top 20 over the next three weeks and each week Clemson had exactly one first-place vote. However, in the final poll that year, even though Clemson had run the table to finish 8-1 in the regular season, that individual failed to vote Clemson number-one, as the Tigers did not have a first-place vote in the December 11 poll, which was the final poll that year.

Clemson's First AP Poll

Clemson First Appeared in the National Top 20 on November 13, 1939. Here is the poll from that day. You can see how times have changed by some of

The First Bowl Team

The landmark accomplishments of the 1939 Tigers are many. This group became Clemson's first bowl team, the first Tiger team to win a bowl game, the first team to be ranked in the AP poll, the first team to be ranked in the final AP poll. The 60 players on this roster set a standard of excellence that is carried on today. Clemson ranks in the top 10 among all college football teams in winning percentage in bowl games. The tradition started with the 1939 team.

the names in the rankings. Cornell, Dartmouth and Holy Cross aren't Division I teams anymore and Duquesne and Santa Clara don't even have football teams anymore. We must assume Minnesota, with a 2-3-1 record, had played one heck of a schedule.

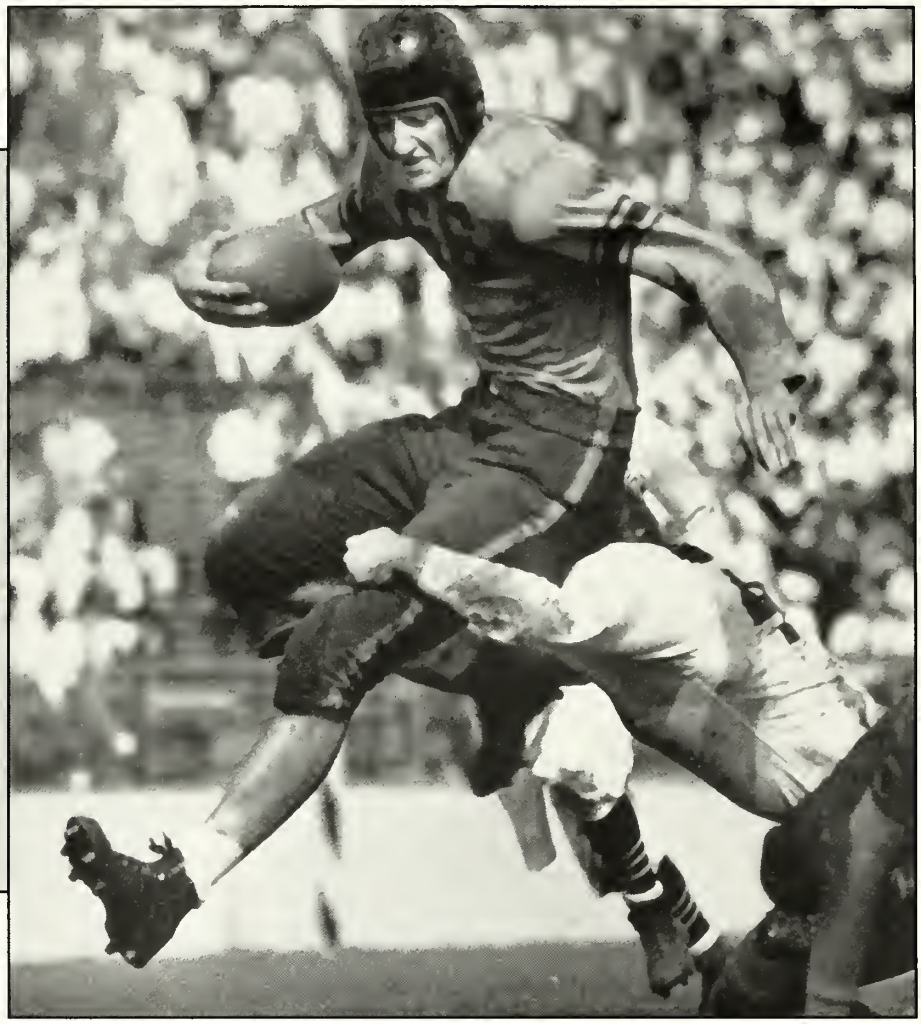
19.	Oregon State	6-1-0	10
20.	Minnesota	2-3-1	6
	Dartmouth	5-1-1	6

November 18, 1939—Clemson won away from home for the fourth straight time, a 21-6 win over Southwestern University, which is now Memphis State. McFadden and George Floyd combined for 126 yards rushing on just 10 rushes.

November 25, 1939—Clemson concluded its 8-1 regular season with a 14-3 victory over Furman. Shad Bryant ran for 94 yards and gained 75 more in punt returns. McFadden scored two touchdowns and had 10 punts for a 42-yard average, intercepted a pass and completed a pass.

December 8, 1939—Clemson accepted a bid to play in the Cotton Bowl. It is Clemson's first postseason bowl game appearance. Clemson did meet Cumberland in a postseason "Championship of the South" game in 1903, but it was not considered an established bowl.

December 11, 1939—Clemson ranked



Banks McFadden

No one has come down the pike before or since. That is a common way of describing a great player and it extends to Banks McFadden. At 6-3 and nearly 200 pounds, McFadden was an unusual site for a star running back. That is big for a running back by today's standards. The native of Great Falls, SC was the original triple threat player. He was a standout passer, runner, defender and kicker. Clemson's first AP All-American was also Clemson's first All-American basketball player. On top of all that, you couldn't ask for a more dedicated Clemson man who continues to represent his University with pride. Clemson's recently completed football building bears his name . . . as it should.

Tiger Timeline

12th in the final poll by the Associated Press, Clemson's first appearance in a final season AP poll. The Tigers had 112 poll points, just behind Boston College, who had 120.5 poll points for 11th place. Clemson would defeat Boston College in the Cotton Bowl, but the AP did not have a poll after the bowls. In fact, for whatever the reason, the AP did not have a final poll after the bowls until after the 1968 season. Thus, Clemson actually would have had a much higher ranking by today's standards if there would have been a poll in January of 1940.

December 15, 1939—Banks McFadden was named a first-team All-American by Associated Press and a third-team selection by United Press International. He was the first Clemson player honored by the AP. Later that year he was named the Nation's Most Versatile Athlete for 1939. Earlier in the year he had led Clemson to the 1939 Southern Conference Championship in basketball, still the only postseason championship in Clemson history.

January 1, 1940—In Clemson's first bowl appearance, it defeated Boston College 6-3. Charlie Timmons scored the game's lone touchdown from two yards out and rushed for 115 yards. Banks McFadden keyed the defense with four pass deflection of Boston College passes and he also averaged 43 yards punt. Boston College drove to the Clemson eight with three minutes left, but Shad Bryant and McFadden knocked away third and fourth-down passes to save the day for the Tigers.

"Clemson is every bit as good as they were cracked up to be," said Boston College Coach Frank Leahy, still the second winningest coach in college football history on a percentage basis. "We lost to a great team, one of the best I have ever seen. I have the satisfaction of knowing that while we were beaten, the game wasn't lost on a fluke."

TODAY'S BAND PROGRAM

By Brenda Rabon

As the array of colorful leaves decorates the skyline, Tiger fans paint the town of Clemson orange as everyone witnesses Clemson pageantry at its best with the arrival of Homecoming, one of the most thrilling times of the season.

Tiger fans of all ages enjoy Homecoming festivities. Alumni reunite with old college friends to relive college memories. Clemson fraternities, sororities, and other organizations work into the early hours of the morning all week on Bowman field creating some of the most magnificent displays ever seen.

On Friday night, the "world's largest pep rally," Tigerama, is performed on Frank Howard field. Head Basketball Coach Rick Barnes joined with WCCP's Tommy Powell to host the event.

The theme for this year's festivities is "The Cereal Bowl." Various organizations perform skits and frolics related to the theme. The night is capped off with a dazzling fireworks display. The following morning Tiger fans awake and begin another Saturday football afternoon filled with Clemson tradition.

Kickoff time approaches as the Tiger team prepares to meet the Tar Heels of North Carolina. After tailgating fun and fellowship, Clemson faithful invade Death Valley and anxiously await the arrival of the Tigers.

Highlighting Homecoming festivities, as we continue to celebrate 100 years of Clemson Tiger football, is none other than Tiger Band.

Pregame festivities begin with one of John Phillip Sousa's most renowned marches, "Washington Post." The Clemson University Pershing Rifles Company C4 presents the colors on the field. Everyone then stands and joins Tiger Band to honor America in singing "God Bless America."

After the invocation, the crowd remains standing for the Pledge of Allegiance and the singing of the National Anthem conducted by Clemson University Director of Bands, Dr. Richard Goodstein. Tiger Band then invites all to sing the Clemson University Alma Mater.

Tiger Band marches to form the traditional script "Tigers" across Frank Howard Field. Everyone directs attention to the 25-yard line where Thornwell Dunlap, Clemson Alumni Association President, dots the "i." Dunlap graduated from Clemson in 1953 with a degree in dairy science. He is currently the president of County Bank of Greenwood.

Dunlap is a past member of the Clemson Board of Visitors, Tiger Brotherhood and the Clemson Senior Platoon. He also is a past chairman of the Board of Trustees of Self Memorial Hospital in Greenwood.

Tiger Band then strikes up "Sock It To 'Em/Tiger Rag" while marching to the east end of Memorial Stadium to form the tunnel for the Tigers to run through. Fans are moments from witnessing what has been described as "the most exciting 25 seconds in college football from a color and pageantry standpoint."

At the appointed time, the cannon fires and the Tigers invade Death Valley after running down the legendary hill. No player or coach will forget to rub Howard's Rock in hopes of gaining mystical powers to ensure a win against the Tar Heels, who have not won in Death Valley in 15 years.

Today for Homecoming, Tiger band presents a show entitled "Classic R&B." Popular R&B classics from the late '70s are featured, including "Star" by Earth, Wind, & Fire and "Still" by the Commodores.

During this afternoon's game, we honor the flag line. The 29-member Tiger Band Flag Line contributes to the color and pageantry of every Tiger Band performance. This group has become known as one of the finest college flag lines in the country. Auditions for membership in the Flag Line are held each fall.

This season's Flag Captains are Stephanie Barnosky, Karen Karr, and Linda Siebert. Tiger Band Flag Line is led by instructor, Cheryl Hosler.

Barnosky, a senior at Clemson, is in her second year as a Flag Captain and her fourth year as a Tiger Band Flag Line member. She is a native of Stafford, VA and a Graphics Communications major.

Karr, a sophomore majoring in Health Science, is in her first year as Flag Line captain and second year in Tiger Band. She resides in Lilburn, GA.

Siebert also is in her first year as Flag Captain, but has been a member of Tiger Band for four years. The Jamestown, NC, native majors in Computer Engineering.

Instructor Cheryl Hosler is in her fourth year as coordinator and choreographer for the Tiger Band Flag Line. A native of Columbus, OH, she is a graduate of Ohio State University with a Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree in Dance. A former member of the nationally acclaimed OSU Dance Company, Hosler served as twirler/flag instructor for two Columbus area high schools before coming to Clemson. Presently, Hosler is a free-lance choreographer and is also active as a twirler/flag adjudicator and clinician.

During halftime today the Clemson Golf team will be honored for their third consecutive East Regional Championship, something no other team in the nation has achieved. As part of the ceremonies, members of last year's team will receive their Regional Championship rings.

At the conclusion of the halftime show, Tiger Band will be joined on the field by over 150 former members from across the country who have returned to Death Valley to perform in the Alumni band and play "Tiger Rag" one more time.

Tiger Band also extends an invitation to everyone to their annual "Pass-in-Review" concert on Friday, November 17, at 8:00 PM in the Brooks Center.

Once again, Clemson Homecoming brings special friends and special times back to Death Valley. This weekend undergraduates make memories while alumni relive memories. Future students come to Homecoming and dream about Clemson as a part of their future. The celebration comes full circle to create a special time in the heart of all Tiger fans.

CHRIS McINALLY

By Brenda Rabon

In just about all aspects of sport, the amount of experience is directly proportional to the amount of success.

In terms of soccer experience, Chris McInally proves this axiom true. However, McInally sends the theory back to the drawing board when it comes to football.

The Clemson Tigers starting punter has more soccer experience in his background than football. Originally he came to Clemson to play soccer, a sport he has competed in since the young age of five. He even played a year of professional indoor soccer with the Detroit Neon of the MISL in 1994.

As a player on the Clemson soccer team in 1992, McInally was not getting the playing time he had hoped he would. "I was really beginning to get down on myself, so I decided it was time for a change," said McInally, a native of Michigan. "I got permission to try out for the football team, but I knew it would be the end of my soccer career if I didn't make the football team. It was a risk, but you have to take risks in life."

However, after 18 years of playing soccer, McInally no longer considers himself a soccer player. "Now my soccer career is over. I have taken it as far as I had dreamed of taking it by playing professional soccer. In this country, you can't go higher.

"My goals now are to play on Sundays wherever I can—in the Canadian Football League or NFL. It makes no difference. It is really tough to get into the NFL as a kicker or punter because they last forever once they get into the league." If not, McInally will search for a job using his degree in Human Resources Development, which he expects to receive in December.

In professional soccer, McInally was known a real headhunter. "I was a rough player in soccer. I enjoyed being physical and knocking bodies around. My role was the enforcer. If somebody on the other team took some cheap shots, I would be out on the next shift.

"Once I took out a legend of indoor soccer during a game in San Diego. My team and the other team was mad at me. I was a rookie and didn't know who he was. We were losing 10-2, and it was the first game that I scored a goal. I was pumped up and frustrated at the same time because we were losing. He just got in my way.

"Now I think playing football instead of soccer seems to be a double standard. As a punter in football, I don't hit anybody. I haven't made a tackle yet, and I hope that continues."

McInally has taken a lot from the experience of playing professional soccer.

" I will never forget the experience. There are always little things you take away from an experience. For instance, I will always remember flying on the Detroit Pistons' airplane. It was unbelievable. When we first arrived in Detroit, we didn't have our own locker room, so we used the Pistons' locker room. It was great to be around all those famous players."

McInally has been working on making himself famous this year. He currently leads the ACC with a 42-yard average, a figure that would be the best by a Tiger punter since 1990 when another Chris, Gardocki, punted for the Tigers. He has ranked in the top 30 in the nation in punting over the last four weeks. A key to his improvement took place this summer when he worked on changing his punting style.

"When you think about it, it does not seem like much of a change, but punting is all about developing a rhythm you feel comfortable with. Luckily, I was never comfortable with a three-step just because I was never doing it long enough. My lack of experience made the transistion easier.

"It took a lot of practice. Every day last summer my family and I went out to a nearby field and I practiced punting. My parents and brother, Neil, were out there shagging balls. It was a family affair. They talked me through the times when I was frustrated. It is tough to do without support, but I was fortunate to have support from my family.

"I punted over a 100 balls a day. When your leg gets tired, that is when you really get better because you try to focus more on kicking. When the leg feels good, you try to kill the ball instead. The more punts you can get in a day, the more it will help you. "

As McInally practiced changing his punting style during the summer, he used an interesting type of conditioning—roller blading. After punting at least 100 balls during his nightly practices, McInally and his father would roller blade. "That was basically my conditioning. It was great exercise."

While McInally was in Michigan polishing his punting, back in Clemson the Tiger special teams were identified as a weakness during preseason coverage. Nelson Welch had been the Tiger punter and placekicker most of the last four years and he had graduated. However, this believed weakness has turned into a positive.

"Being from Michigan you don't get any of the local papers, so I didn't hear any of the negatives. It never entered my mind that kicking was going to be a weakness. I had confidence in myself that I could get the job done. "

McInally attributes much of his success this season to his snapper, Elmer Bench. "He does a tremendous job and just doesn't get the credit he deserves because people don't realize how important his job really is during a punt.

"I would really like to thank Elmer for all he does. He's my most important person when I'm kicking the ball. Everybody thinks it's all me, but it has a lot to do with Elmer and the responsibility he has of snapping the ball to me. He snaps the ball perfect every time and that makes my job a lot easier."

McInally also identifies always having the support of his family as another reason for his success.

"My family travels from Michigan to all of my games—both home and way. I want to thank my parents, Mike and Mary, and my brother, Neil, for their outstanding support. They stood by me during the summer and offered encouragement when I was changing my kicking style, and now they are there on game days. The closest trip for them is a 10-hour drive to Maryland and it is a 14-hour drive to Clemson for home games. It means a great deal to me to know they are always there."

With the support of the McInally family and teammate, Elmer Bench, Chris McInally now enjoys success as Clemson's star punter in spite of his lack of experience as a football player. It has been one of the most unusual journeys to the top of an ACC statistic chart in league history.

McInally started his career as a soccer player at Clemson and has already played that sport on the professional level.

Talent

How can you rank the most talented team in Clemson history? A look to players who were good enough to make it in the NFL could be a tangible means of reaching some determination. When looking at the history of Clemson football it makes sense that the most talented teams in terms of NFL products were the 1981 and 1982 Clemson teams. The Tigers were a combined 21-1-1 in those two years, won two ACC titles and the school's only National Championship in 1981.

Both the 1982 and 1981 Clemson rosters had 18 players who went on to play in the NFL. The 1978 club that went 11-1 and finished the season ranked sixth in the nation had 16 players, while the 1980 team that had just a 6-5 record, had 15 players on its roster who made it to the NFL. As far as recent teams are concerned, the 1988 Tigers won the ACC title with a 10-2 mark and had 14 players who are still playing or who made it to an NFL team. Also 14 members of the 1989 team have also made it to the NFL. Every Clemson team between 1977 and 1991 had at least 11 future NFL players on its roster.

The top recruiting classes in terms of NFL players are the classes of 1987, 1989 and 1978. All of those classes produced six future NFL players.

Most Talented Clemson Teams based on Lettermen who became NFL Players:

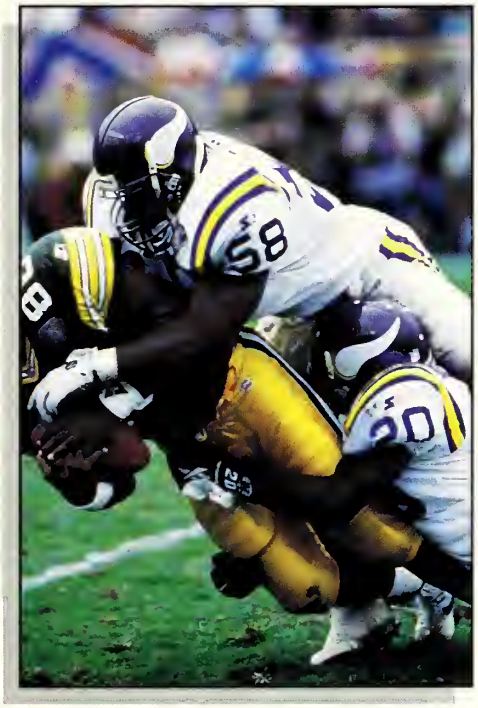
Clemson Homecoming History

Clemson has a 51-17-3 overall record on Homecoming dating back to the first Homecoming game on September 30, 1922. Clemson lost that first Homecoming to Centre and had an 0-4-1 record for the first five Homecoming games so it is a wonder that the tradition caught on. But, Clemson has more than made up for it by going 22-1-2 during Homecoming Games the last 25 years. Today's Homecoming is the latest on the schedule since 1967 when Clemson and Maryland played in a November 11 Homecoming game.



McDaniel was part of a 1987 recruiting class that signed six future NFL players.

THE LAST WORD

by Bob Bradley

This year will mark the 20th straight season that Clemson's average home attendance has been more than road audiences, sometimes being nearly 20,000 more. The 20 years before the present string started (1976), the Tigers were outdrawn on the road in 12 of those years.

There were only two seasons (1950 and 1952) that Clemson averaged over 20,000 a game, but when the first major Memorial Stadium expansion came along prior to the '58 campaign, attendance began a gradual climb.

The first game played in the enlarged stadium in '58 was against Virginia and Clemson had to come from behind twice to defeat the pesky Cavaliers, 20-15. Only 20,000 turned out for the fourth meeting between the two teams.

The 1958 season marked the first time in 28 seasons (dating back to1929) that the Tigers had not opened the season with Presbyterian. After Clemson downed the Blue Hose 66-0 in 1957 Frank Howard's team then was blanked 26-0 by North Carolina the next week at Chapel Hill. Howard vowed that he was going to seek a more challenging opening day opponent in the future.

There were times during that Virginia game that he wished he was playing PC.

Jim Tatum was bringing his North Carolina team to Clemson in '58 for the second game of the season. Tatum had tormented Howard plenty in the past. Four of his Maryland teams had gotten the best of the Tigers, three of them via shutouts, plus the whitewash at Kenan Stadium in '57.

That win over Virginia was Howard's 99th at Clemson. Not only would he reach the century mark with a win over the Heels, but it would be the first over his 'ole buddy' Tatum. The two had "jawed at each other" all summer long which got quite a bit of ink in the press around the Carolinas. It sold some tickets.

The crowd for the North Carolina game doubled the Cavalier turnout and was Clemson's first 40,000 crowd at Memorial Stadium. To top that off, the temperature was stiffling—something like 93 degrees and medics were looking for shade and ice to treat all of the heat victims. Ice and cups ran out before the third quarter was over. Every inch of shade was claimed by a prostrate victim. Possibly more football was missed by heat victims than was seen by the more fortunate.

But back to the football game itself. In my opinion, this was one of the six most exciting games ever played on Death Valley turf.

North Carolina broke the scoring ice in the first quarter when Sonny Folckomer completed his only pass of the day, a 16-yard scoring strike to John Schroeder. The Tar Heels tried for two, but the run failed. Later on in the same quarter the Tigers' Jim Payne broke in from his guard position and blocked a called quick kick. Jim Padgett picked the ball up, and as any tackle would do, did not set any 100-yard dash records, but did cross the 'alumni line' from 28 yards out for a score. Instead of going for the go-ahead PAT, Harvey White passed to George "Pogo" Usry for two more points.

Comeback number-one.

Before halftime UNC's Jack Cummings passed to Don Kemper for a seven-yard scoring strike and Cummings ran the ball in for two points and the Tar Heels shot in front, 14-8. Usry scored on a one-yard plunge before halftime, and again the Tigers went for two, but failed this time. Intermission found a 14-all deadlock.

Fullback Doug Cline, who died about three weeks ago of Lou Gehrig disease, went the final yard for the only score by either team in the third period. The two-point run was not successful, but the Tigers were up, 20-14.

Comeback number-two.

Coker's one-yard dive three minutes deep in the final period tied the game and Phil Blazer's kick gave the Tar Heels a 21-20 lead—shakey to say the least in this seesaw game.

Over eight minutes were left when Clemson gained possession following a punt. The Tigers' second unit, composed in the backfield of Lowndes Shingler, Sonny Quesenberry, Cline and Bill Mathis, entered in the game.

Shingler passed 10 yards to Quesenberry, Cline bulled for 11, then Shingler found Mathis for a 28-yard completion, follwed by a Mathis 10-yard run.

As six minutes showed on the clock, Howard inserted White's team, which had Usry, Rudy Hayes and Charlie Horne in the backfield. More rushing plays resulted in a first down at the Tar Heel 21. Later in the drive, on a fourth-and-one, Hayes burst through for 10 yards to the UNC two. Usry scored his second touchdown from there. A White-to-Wyatt Cox pass for the PAT failed, but Clemson regained the lead at 26-21, and 2:52 showed on the clock as the amount of time left.

Comeback number-three.

North Carolina mounted a comeback of its own, and was sitting at the Tiger 41, but threw four straight incomplete passes. Clemson had prevailed, but it was one of the epic struggles that has become commonplace down through the years.

Tatum came into the Clemson dressing room after the game. Howard said: "Boys, you played a fine game, and here's a man who wants to tell you the same thing."

Howard was rewarded with his 100th victory, and this turned out to be the only win he ever had over Jim Tatum. Tatum died just before the opening of the 1959 season. Clemson would have been his first game that year in Chapel Hill.

As for the 40,000 who crowded Memorial Stadium that day—they all eventually got home over the two-lane road that came in and out of town. There was no four-lane highway 123, or Perimeter Road. Unless one lived in Seneca, Walhalla, Westminster, or in that direction, everybody had to inch their way to the fruit stand fork and head for either Greenville or Anderson.

The Governor (Fritz Hollings) and district highway engineer (F. E. "Boo" Armstrong) got caught in this traffic and almost immediately, surveyors, engineers and city planners were on the scene figuring out some four-lane roads for the area.

Howard claims that he had some of his state highway patrol buddies make sure that the Governor and highway engineer got in the slowest moving lines that day.

Whether or not this is true, it's hard to say. But I certainly wouldn't put a week's pay on Howard not pulling it off. Don't put anything past the man who years later got himself a raise by getting the governor and college president a raise first.

But, that is a story for another program.

Howard picked up his 100th career win against the Tar Heels in a thriller in 1958.
